FIVE ARE KILLED IN COURTROOM

OFFICIALS SLAIN BY MOB

Circuit Judge, Sheriff and State's Attorney Assassinated by Outlaws

Conviction of "Moonshiner" Leads to Battle; Posse
Pursues Murderers

HILLSVILLE, Va., Mar.
14.—In a "flame" of unprecedented out-lawry,
the entire human fabric of the Carroll County Circuit Court, in session here today, was wiped out by assassination.

Just as Judge Thornton Massie had sentenced Floyd Allen to one year in prison for aiding in the escape of a county prisoner, two of Allen's brothers and several of their friends opened fire with revolvers.

Judge Massie fell dead in his place on the bench on the first volley. Then the weapons were turned on Commonwealth's Attorney William Foster and he sank to the floor with several bullets in his brain, death being instantaneous.

Sheriff Lewis Webb, who made a frantic effort to reach the ringleaders was shot dead before he had taken 10 steps. Several of the jurors who had tried the case were wounded seriously.

Dexter Goad, clerk of the court, and Juror Douglass, who were wounded during the fighting in the courtroom, died late today.

The Allens, including the prisoner and their friends, after the killing of the sheriff, backed slowly out of the room, holding all would-be pursuers in check at the point of revolvers. Once outside they made a dash for the mountains on horseback. A posse of citizens was soon in pursuit and reports reached here that one of the mountaineers had been wounded.

MILITIA IS READY

Special officers are being rushed into the county to help in running down the murderers.
Governor Mann is holding two companies of militia in readiness in case the Allens and their friends gather recruits in the mountains.

Hillsville is in a remote quarter, fifteen miles from Barren Springs, the nearest railroad station, and outside help will be late in arriving.

The scene of the wholesale murder was the quiet little old-fashioned red brick county courthouse, Hillsville being the seat of Carroll county. There had been reports that an attempt might be made to rescue Allen, who himself had aided a prisoner friend recently to escape from the county officers. The trial had been in progress for several days, however, without any indication becoming public of the carefully-planned plot of the Allen brothers and their associates.

Floyd Allen had been found guilty and called for sentence today. The stuffy little courtroom with its coal stove and crude furniture.

PRISONERS KILL THREE GUARDS

Warden and Two Assistants Shot Dead During Mutiny of Convicts

Officers Rushed to Scene of Conflict and Soldiers Are Called Out

LINCOLN, Neb., March 14.—Warden
James Delahanty, Deputy Warden
Charles Wagner and Guard A. M.
Hellman of the state penitentiary were killed by convicts in a riot today. Keeper Doody was slightly, but not fatally, hurt.

The convicts overpowered a guard, seized his revolver and with it attacked the penitentiary officers.

TWO DIE OF WOUNDS

Delahanty, Wagner and Hellman were fatally shot and died in a very short time following the outbreak.

When news of the murders reached the state capital a call was immediately sent to police headquarters and a squad of police departed at once for the penitentiary. Company F of the national guard was ordered out.

The insurrection started about 2 o'clock. The riot was quelled at 3 p.
m. State, county and city officers started at once for the penitentiary upon learning of the outbreak. Word was received early at the sheriff's office and Sheriff Hiers and assistants left immediately for the prison.

"Revolver" and dynamite were smuggled into the penitentiary, but the imprisoned desperadoes resorted only to firearms.

MEN SHOT DOWN

Three convicts, Gray, Martin and Forbes, shot Deputy Warden Wagner when they met him in the chapel.
Doody was shot as they ran into the west cell house, where he is the keeper. The convicts then rushed upon the turnkey, took his keys and let themselves into the main corridor.
It was outside the barred steel doors kept by the turnkey that Warden Delahanty met death. Hellman was shot as he started out to assist the warden.

The slayers ran out of the front entrance and made their escape in the snow storm. None of the other convicts attempted to escape.

tempts to End His

NEW YORK, March 14.—Isidor
Scher, 27 years old, shot and killed his sweetheart, Leina Klein, 14 years old, in her Brooklyn home shortly before midnight last night and then shot himself. He was taken to a hospital in a dying condition. The young woman had refused to go walking with him; it was said, and told him that she no longer cared for him.

Judge Declares It Is Not Breach of Peace to Dance It in Public

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., March 14.—
It is not a breach of the peace to dance the "turkey trot," according to a decision by Judge James T. Hoskill, here. The ruling was in the case of a young man arrested at a local dance hall after he had been ejected for dancing the "trot."

RECALLERS FAIL TO AGREE

Union Laborites and Socialists Reach Parting of the Ways

Disagree Over the Officials Alleged to Be Responsible for Disorders

A disagreement that may result in an open fight between union labor and the Socialist party in connection with the proposed recall of the city administration is threatened.

There is a difference in the policies of the two organizations regarding the recall of officials other than Mayor
Frank K. Mott and Commissioner F.
C. Turner.

The Socialists threaten to recall the entire administration, while the Central Labor Council, in its investigation, has fixed the blame for the Hamilton Hall occurrence on Mayor Mott and Public Health and Safety Commissioner Turner, the findings of the Labor Council's investigation committee, explicitly stating that the other commissioners knew nothing of the matter and that it has never been brought before the city council.

Rumored agreements between the union men and the Socialists to drop the fight against the other officials are denied by H. C. Tuck, secretary of the Socialist party, who states that the Socialists, while they have not yet decided how far-reaching their recall proceedings are to be, have made no agreement to withhold action on any member of the administration.

ITALIAN RULER NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH AT HANDS OF AN ANARCHIST

KING VICTOR EMMANUEL of Italy, who was fired on by an Anarchist, and QUEEN HELENE and child.

MONARCH ON WAY TO HONOR THE DEAD

ROME, March 14.—Several shots were fired at King Victor Emmanuel early today as he was leaving the palace. None of them took effect. His assailant was arrested. The King was on his way to the Pantheon to attend the annual memorial service in honor of his father, King Humbert. A young man fired several shots from behind the crowd in the streets. One of the officers of the King's bodyguard fell dangerously wounded.

There was tremendous excitement in the crowd, which turned on the youth and attempted to lynch him. The police finally rescued him. The King continued on his way after only a brief stop and sat through the Pantheon services without a sign of emotion. The populace handled the would-be assassin so roughly before the police could intervene that the youth could hardly speak when he reached the police station. He gave his name as Antonio Dalba and declared that he was an "individualist anarchist."

Accompanied by Queen

His Majesty was accompanied by Queen Helene and the royal carriage was preceded and followed by an escort of cuirassiers. The procession was passing along the Via Lata, when three shots were fired from the crowd. The commander of the escort fell from his horse as his men dashed forward.

The wounded officer was moved to one side by some of his men, while the others pressed about the royal carriage where they found the King and Queen sitting calm and unmoved. Meanwhile the crowd seized the man who had fired the shots and attempted to lynch him. He was scarcely able to answer questions when he was handed over to the police.

The royal procession was scarcely interrupted, but proceeded toward the Pantheon, where the mass for King Humbert was completed without further incident, and after the conclusion of the service the King and Queen returned to the Quirinal along the same route.

Visits Wounded Man

On their arrival at the palace the King learned for the first time that the commander of his escort, Major Lang, had been seriously wounded and His Majesty at once started for the hospital, where the major was lying. He traveled in an open automobile. The man who had fired the shots had, in the meantime, been taken to the police station, the policemen having great difficulty in passing through the crowds which showed intense anger and desired to wreak immediate vengeance. At the police station, in spite of the man's condition, he was subjected to keen interrogation. He said his name was Antonio Dalba, that he was 21 years of age and that he was a stonemason. He described himself as an "individualist anarchist" and said he made the attempt on the King's life as a fugitive.

thought the man may have visited her there.

Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Mrs. E. Von der Heide, 1427 Webster street, Alameda, Cal., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I consider them a splendid remedy for kidney trouble. Two years ago Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of pains in my back, which had annoyed me a great deal, being caused, I believe, by a cold settling in my kidneys. My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills was so satisfactory that I do not hesitate to recommend them to anyone afflicted with kidney complaint."

MISS BROWN HAS BEEN MISQUOTED

School Director Denies Stating That Board Met in Secret.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: In THE TRIBUNE'S issue of Tuesday, March 12, the statement was made that "the basis of the action against the school directors will deal with the trouble of school sites, and over the allegations made by School Director Annie Florence Brown on several occasions that the school funds were being disbursed by the board as a result of secret sessions of various committees."

I wish to state that I have been misquoted in these matters; that I have never, at a meeting of the board or elsewhere, stated that any committee held a secret meeting for the disbursement of school funds.

Kindly publish this in this evening's issue of your paper, over my signature, and oblige.

Yours very respectfully,
ANNIE FLORENCE BROWN.

COMMITTEE STARTS ON SEARCH FOR TEN FAIREST OF THE FAIR

Many Other Names Proposed by Friends as Those Best Fitted to Be Crowned Queen of Oakland Beauty Land

WITH the following letter THE TRIBUNE closes the discussion concerning Oakland's ten most beautiful women.

The question will be hereafter in the hands of the committee, of which Mrs. Isaac Requa has proven so able a chairman.

Mrs. Requa, Mrs. Charles H. King, Mrs. J. P. Neville and Miss Mollie Connors, the committee representing THE TRIBUNE, will announce their list of Oakland's ten most beautiful women in the near future. Their decision will be awaited with interest by all the readers of THE TRIBUNE.

Additional letters that have been received for the Beauty Columns of THE TRIBUNE follow:

MRS. MARK L. REQUA.
Dear TRIBUNE: Among the well known women whose beauty and goodness bring a special appeal, is Mrs. Mark L. Requa. She has all the distinction which good family brings. She has the artistic inheritance which lends noble lines to the face, and there is the character imprint placed there by sweetness, unselfishness and greatness of heart. Mrs. Mark Requa has wonderful measurements for so young a matron, and they have written beautiful lines in a lovely face. No list of charming women would be complete without her name.

A TRUE FRIEND.
BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: At a luncheon this week the main discussion was about your "Beauty Column" and after a friendly informal talk, I send you a result, which may be helpful. We decided that our ten of the most beautiful matrons in Oakland were the following:

Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mrs. Sawyer Brainerd, Mrs. Mark L. Requa, Mrs. Oscar F. Long, Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. Hugh Goodfellow, Mrs. Minor Goodall, Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mrs. Harry Chickering.

Of course your list won't be made up of all from the young matrons, but we thought this suggestion might be helpful.

Homely in face and German in name, WILHELMINA.

FROM ONE OF THE "BOYS".

Dear EDITOR TRIBUNE: Many friends would like to compliment you on the graceful, attractive way in which your beauty story has been developed. It is a tale told in a charming fashion. Mrs. Requa has made many of us just go and "frankly shake hands" with old Father Time. You have asked for suggestions, you know, so here is one: Why don't you have a beauty symposium to the theme "Name the ten handsomest men in Oakland?"

Wouldn't it be a scream in one way and what fun we might all have out of it, and that committee of yours is so convincing that we might learn to see the beauty in a bald head, and as for white hair, I suppose your committee would say, with Oliver Wendell Holmes, in writing about "The Boys":

"Yes, white if you please, Where the snow flakes fall thickest, there is nothing can freeze!"

But this column is for your beautiful women, so with a plea for another symposium in the near future,

ONE OF THE "BOYS".

MRS. PHILIP CLAY.

Dear Beauty Committee: Mrs. Philip Clay is a very fine example of a beautiful young matron. She was easily the most beautiful young woman in the receiving party at the Moore tea, and she has attracted a great deal of attention at the Fairmont, where the Clays have lived this winter. Mrs. Clay was also one of the most beautiful of the young matrons at the Greenway assemblies this winter.

MARY E. C.

SHADY SIDE OF THIRTY.

Dear TRIBUNE: In the old days our grandmothers used to refer feelingly to "The shady side of thirty." How splendid to feel that there is no longer any "shady" side, that a woman is wonderfully young at thirty, and that the best artists have decided that she is then most beautiful. And have you noticed that most of the fascinating heroines of the new books are past thirty?

We ought to thank Mrs. Requa for her share in making bright that hill slope that used to be named "The Shady Side of Thirty."

ADDED NAMES.

Dear TRIBUNE: I would like to see added to your list Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mrs. Richard Partington and Mrs. Edward Dacey Brayton, Mrs. Pearl King Tanner.

Sincerely, C. B.

MRS. J. B. RICHARDSON.

Ladies of Beauty Committee: I wish to suggest the name of Mrs. E. B. Richardson of Piedmont, a lady who has done much noble work in philanthropy and charity. She has sparkling, kindly eyes, an exquisite complexion and features of beauty and symmetry.

Mrs. Richardson professes the simple life, but when her duty as hostess or guest demands, she takes her place in society, and attired in artistic evening dress might well be called an ideal American gentlewoman.

LIZZIE M. H.

MRS. A. C. POSEY.
My Dear TRIBUNE: Mrs. A. C. Posey always results to my mind the beauty of the lost Aphrodite of Knidos, a copy of which stands today in the Vatican. The eyes of this statue look out (as the original which guarded the coast so faithfully is said to have done) with an expression of such nobleness and loveliness that she became a comfort and inspiration not only to kings but also to maidens and even humble fishermen.

This beautiful Aphrodite of Knidos stood a type of lasting beauty and loveliness, which is a heritage for all humanity. Just as through a study of the outward beauty of form we come at last to the inner spiritual meaning, in studying the living model I have named, whose beautiful eyes reveal brilliancy of mind, modest of attainment and loving charity of soul we find our answer to the query, "Who is the most beautiful woman?"

EXEMPT ARCHITECT FROM REGULATIONS

The Civil Service Commission Takes Action; Donovan Returns From East.

J. J. Donovan, city architect of Oakland, arrived this morning from a three weeks' tour of the East and Middle States, spent with Superintendent of Schools J. W. McClymonds in investigating schools and auditoriums plans preliminary to preparing plans for Oakland structures to be built with bond moneys recently voted.

Superintendent of Schools McClymonds is in Los Angeles making further investigations, but will return to Oakland Saturday.

The civil service commission at a special session this morning passed a resolution at the instance of the city architect exempting the position of city architect from the operations of the civil service regulations. The request that this should be done was made several weeks ago by the council prior to Donovan's trip east, but on account of investigations of the plan to create a municipal bureau of architecture which the civil service directors wished to make, the request was held up until today.

The civil service commission has satisfied itself that the plan to make City Architect Donovan head of a bureau of architects who will draft plans for the Oakland schools and auditoriums is a good one, as it is approved by the American Association of Architects, and the remuneration to be allowed is in accordance with a national schedule.

That Henry Hornbostel, known as one of the most brilliant architects in either Europe or America, will assist Donovan in an advisory capacity has been assured through the previous connection of Donovan with the firm of Palmer & Hornbostel, who designed the new city hall. This will give Oakland the benefit of the ideas of one of the great architects of the country in the work of designing public buildings for Oakland.

Architects will work with Donovan and Hornbostel in the creation of the plans and specifications.

VISITS MANY SCHOOLS.

City Architect Donovan visited schools in St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburg, Williamsburg, New York and Boston during his trip east and made a special study of the modern methods of school architecture, making a detailed study of the open air schools, the new "open window schools" and of the methods of ventilation, heating and sanitation in use in the best examples of school architecture and equipment.

Donovan also visited the Denver municipal auditorium and other big assembly halls. Speaking of the Denver auditorium Donovan said this morning:

"This auditorium is spacious and its acoustic properties are of the finest. I think that we can improve upon the plan in many ways. We want something that will be of possibly more beauty from an architectural point of view."

"The schools in St. Louis were, I think, the best we have visited. I found that great knowledge of the school problem, anything like a scientific standardization of the matter, has not as yet been achieved, although I was led to believe the contrary. I think we can improve upon the eastern schools."

"One great lesson they have learned which should benefit us is the fire-proofing of all schools. The schools should be absolutely fireproof, so far as this is possible."

"In the east the open air schools are considered as exclusively for the anaemic or the tubercular. They have nothing like our weather conditions in this matter and I think it will be incumbent upon us to do some pioneer work in this line."

"The so-called 'open window schools' should meet a need that is felt here. It is a school that can be converted into an open air school in good weather and closed in bad weather as an ordinary school."

Spring Medicine

There is no other season when medicine is so much needed as in the spring. The blood is impure and impoverished—a condition indicated by pimples, boils and other eruptions on the face and body by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength.

The great spring medicine, according to the experience and testimony of thousands annually, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It purifies and enriches the blood, cures eruptions, builds up the system. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets known as Sarsatabs.

Kennel Club Asks Council to Prevent Spread of the Rabies.

Acting upon the recommendation of representatives of the Alameda County Kennel Club, the City Council will probably pass an ordinance enforcing the muzzling of all dogs allowed to run at large for a period of three months from the time of the passage of the ordinance. The law will be directed against the possibility of rabies being brought here.

DIFFERENCE IN AGE TROUBLESOME

Reason Alleged for Family Objection to Wilson Marriage.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—Mrs. Caroline Wilson procured a divorce yesterday from her husband, Charles W. Wilson, of his Majesty's Royal Northwest Mounted Police at Fort McPherson, in the Arctic Circle region. The decree was issued by Judge Van Nostrand on the grounds of desertion.

Mrs. Wilson, who lives at the Alexandria hotel, said on the witness stand that her troubles were due to family objections to their marriage because of their ages. She is still in her twenties, while her husband is more than 60.

Colonel Wilson has for many years been associated with the English army, and was retired two years ago as a lieutenant colonel. His family is one of the wealthiest and most aristocratic in Canada, and he owns vast estates worth millions, near Edmonton, Alberta.

Mrs. Wilson, before her marriage was Caroline Plaster, daughter of a civilian quartermaster in the navy at Philadelphia. The couple became acquainted in Canada several years ago. They were married at Edmonton on October 9, 1908.

Later the colonel accepted a commission in the Mounted Police, having found a quiet life in Canada according to the wife. The wife was sent east to Philadelphia in June, 1910; the colonel was to follow her, but his letters finally grew far apart and ceased entirely. The wife wrote letters to her husband's family and, failing to receive any answers, she wrote to A. C. Lacey, chief constable of Edmonton, and learned that Wilson had transferred all his property to Senator Edwards, affiliating with a vice detachment stationed in far off Fort McPherson.

No alimony was asked in the divorce, but at the end of the required lapse of time she will go to Canada and fight for her dower rights.

WOULD GIVE TEACHERS ECONOMIC LESSONS

FRESNO, March 14.—"One of the crying shames of our system of educating teachers is our failure to teach them economic, social and political science. These are the three factors at the bottom of our biggest problems in democracy today, yet those who prepare our children to face the world know nothing of them," said Dr. Henry Gustaf of Columbia University, in addressing the Central California Teachers' Association this afternoon.

PETITION FOR NAME OF ROOSEVELT ON BALLOT

SACRAMENTO, March 14.—Two more Roosevelt nominating petitions for the purpose of having the name of the Colonel appear on the presidential preference primary ballot were filed today in the office of the Secretary of State. The petitions are for Alameda and Riverside counties.

It was announced in the office of the Secretary of State that the filing of these petitions insures the appearance of Roosevelt's name in the first column on the primary ballot.

IMPROVERS PLANNING BIG ENTERTAINMENT

Water rates and sewerage were discussed at the last meeting of the club.

SAVED FROM DANGEROUS OPERATION; NEIGHBOR ADVISED WHAT TO DO FOR BLADDER TROUBLE.

I, too, wish to add my testimonial to the thousands who have said that they will tell you what your great medicine did for me.

Several months ago I was taken very sick with bladder trouble, had intense pains and suffered greatly; at times I could not stand on my feet or sit in a chair and often was forced to cry out with pain.

I consulted two doctors, who gave me different kinds of medicine, which did me no good. I decided to try the more of the medicine I took the worse I became. The doctors seemed to be greatly puzzled over my case, and after holding a consultation, I was told that I had a severe case of inflammation of the bladder and an operation was very necessary.

I was being prepared to be taken to the hospital when a neighbor came to my house and said, "Why don't you try a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root?" I was willing to try anything to get relief from my suffering. My wife bought a bottle of your medicine, which I began taking and soon noticed a change for the better. I continued taking it and got better and right along my appetite returned and I was able to resume work.

I have used about fourteen bottles of Swamp-Root and know that had I not taken it I would have been operated on and perhaps never recovered. I never fail to tell my friends about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, as I know it will save many people from suffering and perhaps, as in my case, a dangerous operation.

Yours gratefully,
SAMUEL WILSON,
651 Pierce St., N. E., Minneapolis, Minn.

Personally appeared before me this 24th day of Sept., 1909, Samuel Wilson, of the city of Minneapolis, who subscribed the above and on oath says that same is true in substance and in fact.

BIG STRIKE IN EAST THREATENED

Coal Miners' President Says That Miners Will Not Compromise.

NEW YORK, March 14.—"The United Mine Workers of America will not compromise a single demand that they have made of the anthracite coal operators," declared John P. White, president of the Mine Workers, this afternoon.

"I look for a general suspension of work in the anthracite field on April 1," White declared. "The operators have notified us that they reply in final. When we meet them tomorrow we will file merely a formal reply, reiterating our demands. It will be then up to the operators. If they refuse to meet our demands, the miners will go on strike. I am sure that the hard coal miner in Pennsylvania will lay down his tools on the night of March 31."

HOLD CONFERENCE.
NEW YORK, March 14.—Members of the miners' committee, meeting today to consider the complete refusal of the operators to meet the demands for a 20 per cent advance in wages, recognition of the union, an eight-hour work day and other changes in conditions at the mines, were uncommunicative.

They expressed the opinion that the operator's proposition was by no means satisfactory to the miners, but the counter proposal of the operators gives an opportunity for the miners to debate the matter with the operators, which may lead to compromise.

There also were reports today that the hard coal miners' committee would ask, when they meet with the operators tomorrow, for a further extension of time in order to await the result of the conference between the bituminous miners and their miners in the west next week.

Should neither side yield the question of strike will be taken up by what is known as the policy committee at a meeting to be called later. This committee is made up of the miners and bituminous miners, has the power to recommend a strike, but following such recommendation the question has to be put to a vote of the miners.

STRASSBURG, Germany, March 14.—Twenty-three hundred miners employed in the Prussian state mines have struck, the Christians and unorganized workers joining with the Socialists.

PLAN TO RAISE TROLLEY WIRES

Special Construction to Be Employed to Remove House Movers' "Dead Line."

Special construction to permit the raising of the trolley wires in such a manner that all houses may be moved across the right-of-way of the electric lines of the Southern Pacific Company, are to be established as a result of conference between representatives of the railroad and City Electrician George B. Babcock. The plan to provide special places where openings will be allowed in the trolley wires.

The matter was brought to the attention of Commissioner Turner by John W. Reddick, a house-mover, who complained that the trolley lines of the Southern Pacific Company in Seventh street have created a dead line for house-movers in that section of the city. The problem was taken up with the railroad, with the result that means will be provided for opening the trolley wires in the city.

"Commissioner F. C. Turner, as a result of a conference with the Southern Pacific Company in regard to having places in their trolley where houses can be let through readily, the following conditions will be set: The trolley line to Jackson, Center or Brush, Center or Perilla; Eighteenth and Twenty-first street lines at Brush and Perilla; Webster street line at Fifth street.

Yours respectfully,
"GEORGE B. BABCOCK."

MRS. TULLY TO SEEK FREEDOM IN COURTS

Temperamental Inharmonies Are Held Responsible for Marital Troubles

The marital ties of Mrs. Eleanor Gates Tully, novelist and short-story writer, and her husband, Richard Walton Tully, the playwright, will no doubt be broken in divorce, according to the announcement of Louis Bartlett, attorney for Mrs. Tully, who says that she will shortly commence an action to sever the marriage bond.

Mrs. Tully, since her unexpected arrival from the east, has remained in seclusion, avoiding the sympathy and attention of her friends, while her literary husband is attending to the sale and disposition of their property interests. The woman is suffering from nervous shock, brought on by the quarrel and estrangement.

As a guest at Pleasanton, where Mrs. Tully has sought the quiet of Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst's hospitality, she has been making an effort to regain her normal health and be in readiness for the ordeal which she will have to undergo when her literary husband is attending to the sale and disposition of their property interests.

HEALTH IS POOR.
Barrett stated that Mrs. Tully had gone away to seek the quiet of Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst's hospitality, and that her health, and would make no statements.

LOWELL NINE DEFEATS ALAMEDA HIGH TEAM

ALAMEDA, March 14.—Alameda high's new baseball nine lost to Lowell high on the Lincoln Park diamond yesterday afternoon, score 5 to 1. There was considerable excuse for Alameda's poor showing as half the regular team figured that the recent rains would make the grounds too heavy for playing and therefore did not appear to play their usual places. The substitutes were makeshift material found among the spectators.

COMPLAINS OF ROWDIES ON ELECTRIC CARS

ALAMEDA, March 14.—Considerable complaint has been made of late of the actions of rowdies on the electric cars. Last night Motorman Durham complained to Police Officer Jesse Rogers that a gang of rowdies had been on the cars, using language on his car and had refused to desist out of regard to the women passengers or in response to requests and orders of the car. Durham says that he carries the same crowd each afternoon about 5 o'clock and the police will watch today for the rowdies.

TRIES TO DRAG WOMAN INTO LOT

Victim Telephones the Police Station of Attack on Shattuck Ave.

BERKELEY, March 14.—An attack was made early last evening on an unidentified woman by a man who is being sought by the police. The woman's identity has not been established by the police, though she gave a detailed account of the attack over the telephone.

She declared that, in company with her mother, she was returning to her home in North Berkeley after attending the Berkeley theater at 9 o'clock last night. Just past Berkeley way a man sprang upon her from the shadow of a doorway at the Morehouse grocery and attempted to drag her into an adjoining vacant lot.

She and her mother screamed and at that moment persons came from the home of Dr. Robert Heaton on the other side of the lot. The assailant let go his hold and ran north on Shattuck avenue. To the police she described the man as 5 feet 8 inches tall, dressed in a light suit and wearing a soft gray hat. Patrolmen Kelly, Fraser and H. P. Lee secured the neighborhood of the ways and found no trace either of the young woman or her assailant.

FREE SUGAR BILL CAUSE OF SPLIT

Democrats Divided Over Measure, Which May Pass Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A split in the Democratic ranks resulted today when the House took up the "free sugar" bill. Democrats from cane and beet sugar producing states had prepared speeches against the measure. They contended that the bill meant the end of the American sugar growing industry.

The Republicans are prepared, when debate is ended, to ask for the recommitment of the bill. To advance the chance of this carrying it was said they were prepared to waive their contentions for continuation of the duties on standard and the preferential feature on certain grades of sugar.

School Boys Practice With the Ladders, Buckets and Lines of Hose.

ALAMEDA, March 14.—The Alameda High school fire department, practicing last night with scaling ladders on the high school building, aroused the apprehensions of a passerby, who telephoned to the police that boys were leading a wracking the high school building. The police investigated and found the amateur firemen holding a two-hour night drill.

The high school department was organized over two years ago. The members practice climbing ladders, handle tools, ladder work and other phases of fire fighting. The fire squads are picked from the different classes and are officered by elected battalion chiefs picked from among the students. This organization is supplementary to the customary fire drill in which the entire school participates.

GAMBLERS' FIGHT ON IN CHICAGO

Investigating Bureau Opened to Report on Non-Syndicate Poolrooms.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Jealousy among Chicago gamblers has led to an "investigating bureau" being opened to keep the police informed as to the location of certain poolrooms. It is said that the handbook system syndicate is behind the project and that reports will be made not only to the police but also to the civil service commission and the newspapers.

It is said to be the intention of the bureau managers to report all places which do not take the syndicate news service and that no mention will be made of places which pay for race horse information.

The syndicate's first report was made last night when letters were delivered to the chief of police, assistant chief, detective bureau heads and others, telling of the location of a poolroom.

PARENTS OBJECT TO SHAKESPEARE

Ask New York Board of Education to Eliminate All Profanity.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The New York board of education has been asked by a committee of parents from one of the suburban schools to undertake a revision of Shakespeare's works for the purpose of eliminating profanity and language shocking to the sensibilities of youthful school children. The committee suggests that the board might, in certain cases, "provide some harmless expletives to be used in cases of emergency."

Specific complaint is lodged against the poet's "Merchant of Venice," which is used as practice material in the class and reading for public pupils of about 12 years. The parents explain:

"One of the passages containing an objectionable oath fell to my daughter, a girl of peculiarly sensitive and refined nature. Against the dictates of a tender conscience, and under the stress of her supposed duty, the girl went obediently through her lines. She and other pupils were much mortified."

GARY, Ind., March 14.—Suit for possession of 150 acres of land on which stand the steel mills here has been brought in the Porter county circuit court by the heirs of August Block. The tract is valued at $500,000.

Block was a trapper of fur-bearing animals in the Indiana dunes for thirty years and when the mills were built around his home he became despondent and committed suicide.

'NIGHT FOLLIES' SCENIC DISPLAY ELABORATE ONE

MISS ELIZABETH MEYERS.

The scenic embellishments, the musical settings and costuming of "Night Follies of San Francisco," now playing at the Macdonough, have all been prepared by masters in their various crafts. This company of 40 of the most capable vaudeville performers in the country, together with a dashing and beautiful chorus of pretty girls who can sing and dance, make up an ensemble of clever entertainers.

"Night Follies of San Francisco" is a series of scenes depicting life in San Francisco, which, as many may know, has no parallel in any other city in the world. The play is in three scenes, the first being a lifelike representation of Grant avenue and Market street. Here the tourists are seen making their way through the city under the direction of a guide, later they are taken to Chinatown, where they fall in with a crowd of Berkeley students, and finally in the third scene they visit one of the well known local and brilliantly illuminated cafes. The touring party consists of a wealthy German, Herman Goesselspratz; Harry Asker, a young student, Molly Marston, Fanny Dale and several of her friends. They get separated during the sightseeing tour and a number of very amusing situations result. Briefly told, "Night Follies of San Francisco" embrace all the happenings which might naturally occur in any large city were one to take a tour under the guidance of an official guide.

FIRE ALARM BOX NOT POSTOFFICE

But Aged Tourist From Iowa Didn't Know the Difference.

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—J. T. Carter, 71 years old, a tourist from Iowa, is pondering today over the vigor of Los Angeles firemen's language, a generous sample of which was directed at him when he tried to mail a letter in a fire alarm box. Carter asked a small boy in the street where he could find a mail box. The boy pointed out a fire alarm box. Carter did his best to jam the letter and was still standing by the box bewildered because of his inability to find a suitable place to deposit the piece of mail, when three engine companies and several hose wagons arrived on the scene, answering the alarm he had unwittingly rung in. Then girl students at the State Normal School nearby, thinking that incitation was on fire, ran into the street.

Despite the near-panic, Carter managed to explain his ignorance of the difference between mail and fire alarm boxes, and was permitted to go home instead of being taken to the nearest destination of one who tampers with a fire alarm box when there is no fire.

WINS POLITICAL FIGHT WITH AID OF PUPILS

BRISTOL, I. T., March 14.—Booming of cannon and displays of red fire early today announced the successful termination of John H. Bailey's contest for election to the town council.

Bailey, who has been principal of a grammar school for many years, recently was removed from that position on account of alleged political activity. He immediately began a campaign to secure reinstatement, and in the election of yesterday succeeded in seating his candidate on the school board, beating winning for himself a place on the council. The election was marked by activity on the part of the school children, many of whom went to the polling place and worked all day in the interest of their principal.

Fashion's Story of the Hour to Be Fascinatingly Told at the New Capwell's

When the doors of our new store swing open Saturday they will reveal to you not only a beautiful interior flooded with daylight and the handsomest appointments of any store in the west, but also our exclusive Fashion Show and Easter Exhibit which stretches around the first floor, gives a glimpse of Paris and New York in the Suit and Millinery Salons on the second floor, and spreads into all the other fashion sections of the new store—into the wash fabrics, laces, dress goods, silks, ribbons, waists, lingerie, neckwear—and on and on until one might almost be in Paris.

Oakland has not had so charming a display of new Spring fashions as will be shown, each in its own individual setting, which is splendidly perfect and must be seen to be appreciated.

We have had our experts at home, at New York and in foreign markets scouting among the fashion centers and they have secured for our customers much that will have its premier presentation here, many distinctive things telling exactly the same fashion story as recent openings in Vienna, London, Paris and New York.

Peep into the luxurious rooms devoted to women's and misses' outer apparel and you will see the new Suits and Gowns replete with the loveliest style tendencies—delightful creations, some foreign, but for the most part made in this country of imported materials and under French inspiration—all temptingly displayed in comprehensive variety. Included in the exhibition is the largest showing we have ever had of garments at popular prices which possess a distinction, beauty, finish and tailoring usually associated with much higher cost.

It is only a step from the Apparel Section to where the new Spring Millinery blooms in its ravishing beauty. Debutantes of the new season, these Spring Hats invite you to their "coming out." Now that the styles are settled, it is seen that they are drawn from three periods—the flat headgear of Francis I, idealized as the "spirit of the millinery genius prompts; the jaunty hat of Louis XVI, with its brim turned up at back affords inspiration for styles that suit many faces, and those to whom these do not appeal find what they want in the many styles based on the Directoire period. Imported models made by leading Paris arbiters will be exhibited. The entire display is full of Easter suggestions.

Opening days you are cordially invited to see and study them.

On the first floor are lovely trimmings for Easter Gowns, suggesting in their dainty beauty the refined, womanly mid-Victorian period. Fichu garnitures, tunics, dainty chiffon and satin roses, trimming bands of brilliant rhinestones and iridescent bead effects and other lovely things of which we might write another hour.

Be on hand to enjoy the display while at its perfect best.

And the laces. What shall be said of them? So rare, so rich and so delicate, it would seem they were wrought by fairy artists. Encrustations, insertions, panels, revers, yokes, flounces of exquisite lace form the motif round which this season's most elegant costumes are composed.

Laces of the coarser sort trim the new hats with a twist, or loops, or facing, or frills around the crown. Real laces—the most fairy-like that trained eyes and tireless fingers evolve with cobweb threads are being used with conspicuous lavishness and are contained in our fresh stocks. There are also Bohemian, Russian, Florentine, real Irish Crochet, Chantilly, Macrame, Pt. Alencon—every kind of lace from the rich and heavy to the shadow effects—fine spun as the mists of the morning.

Spring Blouses—surely the most charming of many years. Made of fine laces, chiffon, lingerie or silk, dainty styles over which Parisian fashion creators exercise the same authority as in the suits and millinery.

Lovely beyond the power to imagine or describe is an Easter showing of Wash Fabrics. They are the fairest blooms brought to perfection by master artisans, and are so wondrously wrought that their filmy, diaphanous loveliness suggests silken threads rather than cotton. Styles, weaves and colorings are legion, but the dominant, triumphant note is exclusiveness. Many of the loveliest weaves are to be seen in this store only.

The brightly daylighted departments devoted to silks and dress goods will bid you a bright welcome Saturday. Fashion has placed her stamp of approval on tafetas in soft chiffon weaves and bordered foulards and these favored silks, together with many of their gayer sisters, used by Worth and Martial et Armand are shown here in beautiful array. The new ideas in dress goods are also revealed, the great variety allowing fancy great latitude. Whipcords, serges, worsteds, homespun, new mixtures and chevron weaves, and of course, plenty in white and black.

And don't think this Fashion Show is to be limited only to apparel and the things that go to adorn the person. The home comes in for a large share of interest, and now in this new store we are prepared to sell you not only your draperies and curtains, but the new rugs you are thinking of these home renovating days.

When you come Saturday be sure and bring the little folks with you, for there is a style show for them as well as the grown-ups. The Capwell supremacy as outfitters for the children of all ages is too well-established to need further proof, and we are now magnificently equipped to serve their needs.

We have furnished baby's first wardrobe, clothed the little miss of six, continued to outfit her as a schoolgirl, a college miss and a debutante. Later we have clothed her children. We are made to realize this leadership very, very often when our buyers recognize in some customer—a mother now—the little girl whom they fitted in her first short dress.

In the new store not only the little girls are to be clothed, but the boys as well, and in the same superior fashion as their sisters.

And so we might go on writing in detail the fashion news of every department, both old and new, but when all is said and done, you will have only a partial idea of the beauties awaiting you, and as you are coming Saturday to see them for yourself, we are going to await your verdict. We know what it will be.

The New Store Opens Saturday Afternoon and Evening, March 16th, With a Public Reception and Exclusive Fashion Show.

Hands Off Mexico.

Whether the United States shall or shall not intervene in Mexico is of special significance to San Francisco and the whole State of California. Here we must consider the effect intervention is likely to have on the Panama-Pacific Exposition. In all the Latin-American countries acute interest is taken in the affairs of Mexico, or rather in the likelihood of foreign intervention. The taking of Porto Rico and the hasty recognition of the independence of Panama created a feeling of suspicion and resentment which is being inflamed by agitators in South and Central America.

Should the United States intervene in Mexico without adequate cause, it would be at once charged that this country was trying to seize more territory, planning to annex or make Mexico a tributary. Of course the charge would be baseless, but the effect would nevertheless be injurious to the exposition. It would undoubtedly create a hostile feeling, and might deter some of our neighbor republics from making exhibits at the exposition. Likewise efforts to extend American trade in Central and South America would be handicapped.

The exposition managers hope to secure the active and sympathetic co-operation of all our Latin-American neighbors. They want every nation on the continent to make an exhibit and are anxious for a large attendance of visitors from Central and South America. Both designs are likely to be frustrated if a mistake is made in dealing with the Mexican situation. While conditions in Mexico are deplorable the time has not arrived when our government should take a hand in composing the domestic quarrels of our neighbor.

The United States should deal with Mexico in a spirit of patience and friendly forbearance. It is important to San Francisco particularly, and to American interests generally, that this spirit should be observed. We do not covet the lands of our neighbor, but we do desire to cultivate the good-will of the Latin-American people to the south of us. If we are to be successful in this aim, which is of present deep concern to San Francisco, our government must avoid all appearance of treating Mexico as a subject nation or of assuming to control her political affairs.

Luther Burbank is entitled to all the honor that his fellowmen can give him, but Joaquin Miller is more entitled to have his birthday designated as Arbor Day than any other man living or dead. Thirty years ago Joaquin Miller was ardently advocating the planting of trees and dedicating one day in the year to tree-planting. He bombarded the press with articles on the subject, delivered lectures and strove for years to stimulate an interest in arboriculture. He wanted the Legislature to officially designate an Arbor Day. It was his hope to see the hills around San Francisco bay, and the islands in the bay, forested. That he failed was not his fault. Popular interest could only be fitfully and sporadically aroused, and the "Poet of the Sierras" finally ceased his agitation because he gained no dependable support. Others have since exploited his ideas, but to Joaquin Miller belongs the honor of suggesting an Arbor Day and initiating the tree-planting movement which has at last become a progressive force. There are honors enough for Luther Burbank without bestowing upon him an honor that rightfully belongs to the author of "Songs of the Sunland."

Stitt Wilson's Lane Excuse.

Stitt Wilson, the busybody Socialist Mayor of Berkeley, denies that he took any part in framing up the recall petition that the disorderly element among the Socialists are preparing to circulate in Oakland. His denial is impudently false in all essential particulars. It is very likely that Wilson took no part in drawing up the petition, but he was on hand to whoop up the recall movement. He came here to urge it on and give it the sanction of his voice and presence. That he did not personally write or dictate the petition is of no consequence. What he did was to inject himself offensively and gratuitously into the domestic concerns of this city, as a champion of riot and disorder, and encourage a gang of disturbers to inaugurate a recall movement. His original offense was indecent. His effort to exculpate himself by telling a circumstantial falsehood is despicable.

Congressman Knowland made an energetic fight to have canal tolls remitted on American ships engaged in the coasting trade, but he was opposed by Congressman Kent, the only member of the California delegation to place himself in opposition to a proposition endorsed by every commercial body in the State. Had Mr. Knowland's suggestion been adopted freight rates between Atlantic and Pacific ports would have been kept at a low level—no combination of the transcontinental railroads to maintain a high freight tariff could have been effective. But the "Progressive" Mr. Kent stood for taxing the American merchant marine and keeping up freight rates.

Senator Bourne on the Carpet.

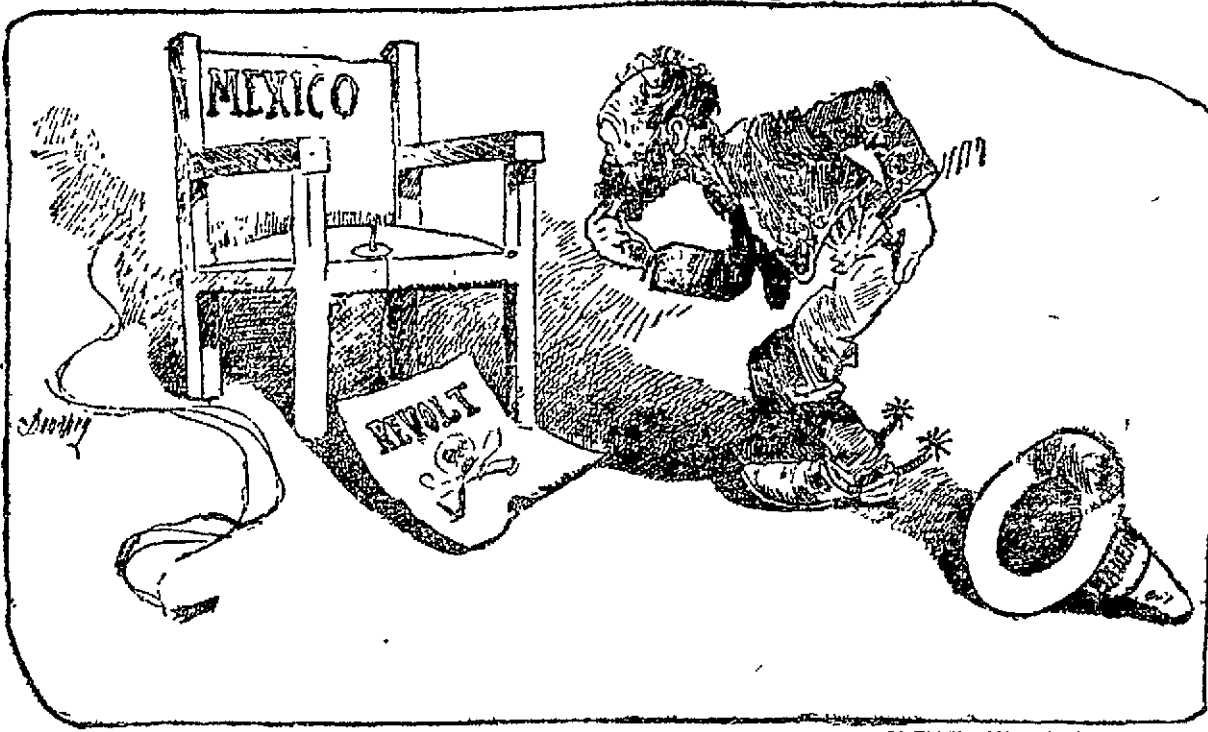

The Hon. Jonathan Bourne of Oregon has discovered that insurgency has its penalties. He is now required to fight for his own political life, with the chances in favor of his defeat. Bourne was elected as a Republican after a campaign in which he spent a scandalous amount of money and in which he made a combination with Socialists. For the past two years he has devoted his attention mainly to fighting President Taft and assailing the chief officers of the administration.

Bourne, Bristow and La Follette sit together in the Senate and take turns in nagging the administration and tearing at every measure suggested from the White House. The three are a unit in trying to discredit the present organization of the Republican party and the traditional policies to which it is committed.

But this course of conduct has not met the approval of Bourne's constituents. Apparently a majority of Oregon Republicans favor the renomination of President Taft and regard with decided disapproval the efforts of Bourne and his insurgent colleagues to embarrass and discredit the administration. Hence Bourne is meeting with strenuous opposition in his campaign for re-election. Benjamin Selling, a popular Republican and a warm supporter of Taft, has entered the list against Bourne and seemingly has the better chance of election. Bourne is so alarmed that he has stopped fighting the President and intimates his willingness to support Taft for renomination. If Taft's friends will not oppose him for re-election.

Of course the President is keeping his hands off the fight, but the opposition Bourne has provoked cannot be allayed by the belated offer to support Taft. Bourne's speeches and votes in the Senate have given deep offense to a large body of the staunchest Republicans in the State, and they are not disposed to forgive him because he has professed repentance at the eleventh hour. So Bourne will have to battle to a finish to hold his seat.

NOT QUITE CIVILIZED YET

The Rights of Non-Combatants.

One of the sad results of industrial conflicts is the suffering they inflict on non-combatants. In the coal mining and manufacturing centers of England hundreds of families in no wise connected with the dispute are in acute distress because they have been thrown out of employment and are unable to get food and fuel. Many small tradesmen are being ruined. Industrial plants have been shut down because of the high price of coal and the shortage in supply, throwing thousands out of employment and creating business depression.

The poor unfortunates ground between the upper and nether millstones of the mine-owners and the striking miners are helpless and starving. They have no voice in settling the dispute of which they are involuntary victims and are altogether in a pitiful condition. It illustrates the horrors of a conflict that is merciless and determined.

It points to a duty on the part of society. There must be some recourse against this condition. Some way must be devised to protect the non-combatants who have done nothing to bring on the conflict and can do nothing to end it. On one side the mine-owners are obdurate, and on the other the miners are implacable. If no one were affected or injured but the two parties arrayed against each other the case would be different. But innocent third parties are the worst sufferers. They are condemned to idleness and starvation while others fight out a quarrel. Hence it becomes vital to them that the quarrel should be settled in a way that will permit the wheels of industry to turn. Such a settlement is the problem that at present engages the attention of the British government.

Senator Cummins of Iowa cuts a contemptible figure in the Presidential race. He was one of the Senators who signed the round robin requesting La Follette to be a candidate against Taft. Our own Senator Works was another. When his colleagues abandoned La Follette for Roosevelt, Cummins declared himself a candidate. It was stated in excuse of his conduct that he became a candidate solely to keep Taft from getting the Iowa delegation. It now develops that Cummins cannot get it. A majority of the Iowa delegation will be for Taft. The indications are that Cummins will not get more than eight of the twenty-four. There will be none for Roosevelt or La Follette.

Roosevelt and the Trusts.

Senator La Follette significantly calls attention to the fact that the greatest era of trust organization and stock-watering ever known in the United States, or any other country, was the period when Theodore Roosevelt sat in the Presidential chair.

The Wisconsin man might have added that the most stupendous campaign fund ever raised in this country was subscribed (largely by the law-breaking trusts) to elect Theodore Roosevelt President a second time. Also that a notorious trust organizer, George W. Perkins, a former partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, is now soliciting contributions to finance Roosevelt's campaign for a third term.

Another point overlooked by Battle Bob is the fact that Roosevelt recently assailed the Sherman anti-trust law as a fraud and a failure and denounced the enforcement of the statute by Taft as a war on business. Roosevelt never made any attempt to enforce the law, but he did give the Steel Trust a written authorization to absorb the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company. George W. Perkins is a director of the Steel Trust.

"We are the true conservatives," writes Colonel Roosevelt in a letter to Thomas F. Doherty of Boston. So the self-styled "Progressives" are really conservatives. Yet the Roosevelt shouters have been employing the word conservative as a term of opprobrium and charging every person suspected of conservatism with being a reactionary or something worse. Now the Colonel comes out and lays claim to the conservative trade-mark. As a matter of fact, he is the most dangerous reactionary in the country.

The Chicago Tribune is illustrating the value—also the folly—of mere assertion as a political propaganda. It strenuously asserts that Taft cannot possibly be elected in case he gets the Republican nomination. Then it states with equally positive dogmatism that Judson Harmon cannot possibly be elected should the Democrats nominate him. In the not improbable event that both Taft and Harmon should be nominated, what becomes of the Chicago Tribune's assertions? Are we to infer that a Socialist or a Prohibitionist would be elected?

Colonel Roosevelt is beginning to realize that he told the truth when he said a movement to give him a third-term nomination would be a calamity. The calamity will befall the Colonel.

This paragraph is taken from the Nashville Democrat: "After standing trial, ex-Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco has been acquitted, the judge declaring that there was no evidence to connect the defendant with the crime of bribery. This ruling was based upon an interpretation of the law by the Supreme Court of California." The ruling was not based upon anything of the kind. It was simply a statement of fact. No testimony connecting Schmitz with the crime of bribery was adduced during the trial. The jury was instructed to acquit because there was no evidence to convict. No interpretation of the law by the Supreme Court had anything to do with the case. When a defendant cannot even be connected with an alleged offense, the idea of convicting him is absurd.

SERMONS IN BRIEF

LIFE AND LOGIC.

(By Rev. G. C. Golden, rector of St. Andrew's Church.)

By the national approval which is given any heroic sacrifice of life, we read the national belief in personal immortality, the brotherhood of mankind, and the indwelling spirit. Men may profess atheism, they may claim to be the greatest materialists, yet one and all, they approve, yea, and would participate in, any deed that is the very fruit and substance of Christianity. Life is deeper than logic and practice frequently digs more true than preaching.

But while such is the belief of man, such is not the character of his thoughts. Look at those that have been running through your mind the last few minutes. Are they not selfish? Do they not bear the stamp of disbelief in the immortality of the soul? Do they not deny the "Spirit Divine" in your fellow-men?

It is sad and strange that in his ordinary life and thoughts, man does not harmonize with his deeper convictions. The result is that his daily life does not show that fullness and loftiness that should accompany the dignity of the human soul.

What we need is the larger outlook—to "trust the larger hope." To act as though we knew our divine heritage, and not as though we were but creatures of the hour.

The poets, the artists and the great teachers have all come to this largeness of outlook by the same method that Jesus taught—by listening to the voice within.

Let us go and stand in this antechamber of the soul, and in silence, commune with it. Let us make its melody our melody, its message our message and its Master our Master.

THE CHILDLESS WOMAN

Ray in the haggard and crows in the byre, A turf stack is filled with its store for the fire. What way am I wanting my heart's deep desire?

Linen new woven and meal in the chest, A cloak of red frieze that I bought in the West—

But sorrow a babe I can rock on my breast.

Money laid by and a parcel of land, A boat in the harbor, the house where I stand—

But God! for a child that would clutch at my hand.

Milk and fresh butter and flour to spare, The chickens, the goat, and the turkeys to rear,

But never a little was child I can care.

The beggar goes by, a babe in her shawl, A wee one streets after and runs at her call.

'Tis I am the beggar, and she that has all.

God send me a child with the sorrow and pain.

Let him waken the quiet and squander the gain,

For I'm counting my riches and plenty in vain.

A child that will know to spoil and to tear, What matter the trouble and moulder and care,

So I'm hearing the fall of his feet on the stair?

A beggar I am—shall I not be blessed With a baby come home that will sleep on my breast?

Let me be a mother, O Christ, with the rest!

NEW LIFE IN JAPAN

Japan is apparently finding that the worship of ancestors, as a spiritual expression, is not conducive to that moral and material uplift which any nation must seek which aspires to lasting greatness. The strongest religion, or rather cult, ever accepted by an intellectual people so far as to move them to the erection of temples, is Shintoism. Shintoism if it can be called a religion at all, must be called a religion without gods. It is neither Olympian nor Sinai, neither Jove nor Jesus. It is nothing more than an appeal to heredity, and must have sprung out of the days when the Samurai, still the greatest caste of Japan, and whose warlike spirit is maintained into that of the Norse Berserkers, by recalling the warlike deeds of their fathers, were seeking to inspire the lower castes, needed in warfare, with a shadow of their own frenzy. We are unable to account for it in any other way consistent with an appreciation of Japanese history.

A very small newspaper dispatch the other day, dated at Victoria in British Columbia, carried a world-moving announcement. It stated, very briefly, that the Japanese home minister has called a conference of representatives of the Christian, Buddhist and Shinto religions, to discuss a national religion for Japan. Official recognition long has been given to Shintoism, but Tokonomi, vice minister, was quoted as saying that "the primary aim of the conference is to bring all three religions into closer relations with the state, and to raise a God-fearing sentiment and a cult of national morality among the people."

This experiment, if it is made, will be watched with keen interest by thinkers and students everywhere. Shintoism has done all that ever could have been expected of it. It has made the Japanese Samurai and all lower grades as fearless of death as men may ever be. It is a most significant fact, and one of the intellectual and spiritual importance of which it would be hard to overstate, that Japanese statesmen are now realizing that, for the making of a truly modern great state, there must come higher ideals into the minds and hearts of that people. It will be interesting to note how firm a stand the Samurai will make, if they attempt making any—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"EYE-MINDED"

Dr. Fletcher B. Dresslar of the National Bureau of Education did not take the trouble to familiarize himself with all the present tendencies in popular amusements when he pronounced the American people "eye-minded," and lamented the fact that they took to moving picture shows with more avidity than to poetry, music and art.

As for the picture show, in its present state of development, it is art of a kind in many cases it tells a story clearly, elaborately, with much in its manner and method to create elation, laughter and the other emotions at which the legitimate theaters aim. Also, the moving picture show offers opportunities for an unpretentious outing for many people who are socially inclined, rather than inclined to a study of histrionic methods and achievements.

Moreover, Wizard Edison has antici-ipated the very fault which Mr. Dresslar has found with the present film performances. People are soon to be acquitted of the charge of being "eye-minded" in their admiration of the moving picture entertainment.

Mr. Edison declares he has perfected a device by means of which the voices of the actors—as well as incidental sounds—will be reproduced with the unfolding of the films, the appeal to the ear and to the eyes being simultaneous.

Perhaps, after all, the charge of eye-mindedness is superficial, and is made largely for the sake of introducing a new word. It may be nearer the truth to say that vast numbers of the American people are beginning to recognize their right to a little joy, and that they are adopting the methods nearest at hand, or the only methods, which close the gates of care and spread wide the aisles of pleasure—St. Louis Times.

MILLIONS REPRESENTED IN NEW NORTH RICHMOND INDUSTRIES

To Make That Section of the City the "Pittsburg" Formerly Pictured.

GEO. W. WALL.

The most interesting purchase made in Richmond since the coming of the Pullman shops was the transfer of the Medina ranch, Monday, January 22d last, when George S. Wall paid eighty ($80,000) thousand dollars in cash for the property mentioned.

Rumors of two big industries to be located in the immediate vicinity of this land, together with the purchase of the land in question, have stirred up more interest in Richmond than any transaction which has taken place since the Pullman Company was located in that city by Mr. Wall, over two years ago. That the rumors are well founded can be conjectured from the fact that any move Mr. Wall has made in Richmond has been accompanied by the final locating of some big industry, he having placed the Pullman Company, the Western Pipe and Steel Company, and now rumors has it that a well known San Francisco corporation and another big factory will shortly be located in the vicinity of the Medina land and the junction of the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads in the same territory. Land speculators and real estate companies have quietly been buying up land around the Medina property since the first information was available, and it is understood that the nearly all of the contiguous property has been sold.

It is also understood that the site selected by the company mentioned is the west end of the Medina land and part of the Gullarte property adjoining.

Richmond owes much of its success as a manufacturing center to the locating in its borders of factories employing many men, and one of the principal factors was the placing of the Pullman Company in Richmond by Mr. Wall, which was done notwithstanding his inducement offered by other cities around the bay of San Francisco and a vast amount of influence brought to bear to secure this valuable addition. Now Richmond is to benefit again by Mr. Wall's undertaking. The locating of the Pullman Company in the city's behalf, and through his close association with various railroad magnates and his influence with them other industries are to be placed in Richmond, for the government of the surveys for the harbor and canal, recently projected, and we are given to understand that the bonds necessary to provide funds for this work will be sold very quickly placed. A further matter of interest is the increase in capacity being made now in the plant of the Western Pipe and Steel Company, located on the Perez land.

The new Enterprise Foundry is rapidly nearing completion, also being located on the Perez tract. The general contour of the buildings are beginning to show the size of this plant and Richmond and vicinity welcome another industry who main shop is practically finished with the exception of enclosing same with corrugated iron and now has the appearance of a gigantic skeleton. The pattern shops adjoining the main building are now ready for the frame work, and the superintendent of construction for this plant expects to have same completed within a period of four months and in running order.

The Berkeley Steel Company is still another industry in North Richmond, and this company recently added to their land holdings in anticipation of enlarging their plant, after seeing their business grow to such proportions as to justify them in making this purchase.

Transportation to the north part of the city is well established by the existence of the Sixth street and Twenty-third avenue car lines and an extension through on Sixth street, north, of the existing car line has been arranged for, and this extension will serve the San Pablo vicinity as well as providing a belt street railway around the northern end of the city. An additional sale of great local importance has been reported at this time to the effect that the North Richmond Land and Ferry Company has disposed of all their holdings of 113 acres, including all water frontage, in the same vicinity as the Medina land, for a sum equal to $150,000. The names of the purchasers are being withheld for the present.

The location of the Richmond West Line railroad through all of this property mentioned, as well as the tracks of the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads, places the land in the first class for manufacturing locations, with water facilities to be developed in the immediate vicinity the problem of rail and water transportation is practically solved.

The bringing under a city and county government of Richmond, San Pablo, Pullman and contiguous townships will have a beneficial effect on the general community and will be welcomed by all of the communities mentioned as an initial step in the solving of a municipal problem long sought for.

The Standard Oil Company is well on the way to the completion of the addition to their enormous $20,000,000 plant in the vicinity of the Medina property, and the progressive City Fathers of Richmond have, as advised, planned in a preliminary way for the issue and sale of bonds of sufficient amount for the completion of the inner harbor canal work, thus bringing to a focus gigantic plans for the immediate improvement of the northern and western parts of the city. This will stimulate the bringing of the world's shipping to the very heart of Richmond. This work will be well under way to completion upon the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition of 1915.

The great captains of industry are reaching out for Richmond and its neighboring communities. It is a foregone conclusion that where men of acknowledged lead in the business world invest and locate industries the workingman and the small business man need not fear to follow their example.

N.Y. HEADQUARTERS FOR TAFT PLANNED

To Be Branch of Washington Office; Educational Campaign Is Object.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Eastern campaign headquarters for President Taft's Presidential boom will be opened at 334 Fifth avenue before the end of the present week.

The offices will be in charge of John W. Hutchinson Jr., who has been head of the speakers' bureau at the Republican state committee in this city for several years. The headquarters will be a branch of the main Taft headquarters in Washington, which is presided over by Congressman McKinley, and it will take charge of the work in New York, New Jersey and New England.

"A campaign of education" is Hutchinson's object, he says. "We shall get into no controversy, our efforts being solely to teach the people along the lines of the problem which Colonel Roosevelt set forth in his Columbus speech."

The initiative, referendum and recall, the recall of judicial decisions and other interesting up-to-date problems will be explained.

The Taft forces, it was said today, have been deliberating for some time the plan of establishing a headquarters in this city. The activity of the Roosevelt committee, which has eleven rooms in the Metropolitan tower, has alarmed the Taft people, it was said, and prominent organization men advise the President to let his friends get into the field and do a little campaigning. All the important Presidential candidates now have headquarters in this city. The list includes Judge Harmon, Governor Wilson, Colonel Roosevelt, President Taft and Oscar W. Underwood.

COLONEL ATTACKED BY LA FOLLETTE

Trust Capitalization Increased Under Roosevelt, Says Senator.

MADISON, Wis., March 14.—The political creed of Senator Robert M. La Follette was given out here yesterday declaring his belief in the initiative, referendum, recall, direct nominations and government ownership and operation of express companies and his opposition to a ship subsidy, the Aldrich currency plan and Canadian reciprocity.

In conclusion he says: "I am opposed to the ship subsidies, which, once entrenched, will become another corrupting influence in our politics."

To further extravagance, on the advice of the State Department, from the building battle-ships and political navy, and, favor an unprejudiced commission to investigate and report what is required in the way of national defense.

To the dollar diplomacy which has reduced our State Department from the high places as a kindly intermediary of defenseless nations into a trading outpost for Wall street interests, aiming to exploit those who should be our friends.

"To the Aldrich currency scheme."

Accompanying his platform Senator La Follette makes the statement: "When Roosevelt became President, the total amount of the stock and bond issues of combinations and trusts, including the railroads then in combination, was only $7,781,000,000. When he turned the country over to Taft, whom he selected as his successor, the total capitalization of the trusts and combinations amounted to the enormous sum of $23,900,000,000, more than 70 per cent of which was water."

These figures were put up on transportation and on the products of the mines and factories to pay interest on the bonds on this fraudulent capitalization."

GOVERNOR STUBBS BRINGS CHARGES

Declares That Taft Managers Are Using "Disreputable Methods."

TOPEKA, Kas., March 14.—Charging that Taft appointees were using "thoroughly disreputable" methods to defeat a presidential primary in Kansas, and that federal patronage was being dangled before the eyes of committeemen for the same purpose, Governor Stubbs last night sent a telegram to President Taft asking him if he approved such methods.

The governor's telegram said in part:

"Your representatives and political managers in Kansas are using every means in their power to prevent presidential primaries being held in this state. The caucus and convention system which they propose to use to secure delegates for you at the national convention at Chicago will disfranchise fully 90 per cent of the Republican voters of Kansas."

Congressman D. R. Anthony sent the following telegram to the President:

"I trust you will pay no attention to the telegram of Governor Stubbs charging participation of postmasters in First district meetings today. No postmaster participated except that the resignation of William I. Bidle, as chairman of the committee was read and his successor elected because he was a federal officeholder. I know of no one who is guilty of pernicious political activity are state officeholders appointed by Governor Stubbs, who has been waging war on the national administration for many months."

FIRE AT THIEF; MIDNIGHT CHASE

Accused Purse Snatcher Flees; Frightened by Shots of Officers.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—After a hail of bullets was sent after him by three pursuing police officers, Y. Ness, a sailor, was arrested at 3 o'clock this morning, shortly after he had snatched a purse from an actress from the Hippodrome dance hall.

The performer was Miss May Porter, who resides at 3912 Eddy street, and Ness, whom she had met on several occasions, asked if he might see her home. She declared that just as he was leaving her he snatched her purse and ran.

Allen W. Lanier, who chanced to be on the street, saw the incident and pursued Ness, catching him at the police station. At Golden Gate avenue and Gaugh street Sergeant Bunner was receiving reports from Policemen Gorman and Fogarty, and heard the calls. They ran up to Turk street and pursued Ness, who refused to halt until frightened by the shots fired after him. When searched the purse containing $9.10 was found on his person and he was charged at the Bush Street station with grand larceny.

Let Your Poor, Tired, Chafed, Tender Feet "Spread Out" Gloriously in a Bath of TIZ!

"O, O glory, what a feel!" Wonderful what TIZ will do for your feet! Just take your shoes off, and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, achy, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a TIZ bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy. They'll look up at you and almost talk, and then they'll take another dive in that TIZ bath. Yes, TIZ is life to feet!

"Just couldn't wait to take my hat off!"

The man or woman who says there's anything like, or as good as, TIZ never had a foot in a TIZ bath. When your feet ache, get tired, swollen, tender or sore, just try TIZ. Your feet will just feel fine; also your corns, bunions and callouses will disappear. You'll be able to wear smaller shoes, too; your feet will keep cozy; they'll never be frost-bitten, never chilled.

TIZ operates under a new principle, drawing out all the poisonous excretions that make feet sore, corny and tired. There's nothing else like TIZ, so refuse any imitation.

PRESIDENT FAVORS ALL RIVER WORK

Appropriation for Sacramento Improvements Is Asked for by Taft.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Taft yesterday sent a letter to Senator Knute Nelson, chairman of the Senate committee, urging that the committee include in the rivers and harbors bill a large appropriation for dredging and improvement of the Sacramento river.

The President wrote that he was personally familiar with the proposed improvement of the river, and believed Congress ought to make the appropriation because the government had allowed so much hydraulic mining in the river that its condition was largely due to this cause.

The House cut out the rivers and harbors bill any appropriation for the river. Speaker Champ Clark in "the bid" with the whole California delegation because of the failure of the House to include an appropriation for the river.

When the Sacramento delegation was here Clark assured them and the California congressmen that he would attend to the appropriation, or words to that effect.

Based on this the Sacramento people went home and the California delegation depending on Clark's promise, which did not materialize, failed to get any appropriation.

HAVENS TO HAVE RUSSO COLLECTION

Secretary MacVeagh Affirms Sale and Oaklander Wins Art.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary MacVeagh yesterday affirmed the sale for customs duties at San Francisco of the Russian art collection exhibited at the St. Louis exposition to Frank C. Havens of Oakland, Cal., at his bid of $39,000.

Of this amount, $19,000 goes to the government for duty. The collection is worth $100,000, it is claimed. The Russian government did not send an exhibit to St. Louis, and the valuable pictures to represent the czar's domain were collected and imported by E. M. Grunwaldt of New York. They were admitted for a year under bond and appraised at $85,000. When the year expired the paintings were taken to Montreal by Colonel H. L. Kowalsky, acting as a power of attorney granted by Grunwaldt.

Kowalsky brought them back to this country at San Francisco. Pending the payment of duty, the bond was extended six months. In the meantime Grunwaldt, it is said, rescinded Kowalsky's power of attorney, and the pictures were sold at the treasury department order of the sale of the collection. Then followed a controversy as to the rightful owner of the paintings—Havens, the bidder; Kowalsky or Grunwaldt.

Sick Women

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured many cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are five letters from southern women which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LETTER FROM VIRGINIA.
Elliston, Va.—"I feel it my duty to express my thanks to you and your great medicine. I was a sufferer from female troubles and had been confined in bed over one third of my time for ten months. I could not do my housework and had fainting spells so that my husband could not leave me alone for five minutes at a time.

"Now I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. Whenever I see a suffering woman I want to tell her what these medicines have done for me and I will always speak a good word for them."—Mrs. ROBERT BLANKENHORN, Elliston, Montgomery Co., Va.

LETTER FROM LOUISIANA.
New Orleans, La.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was troubled with hot flashes, weak and dizzy feelings, backache and irregularities. I would get up in the morning feeling tired out and not fit to do anything. "Since I have been taking your Compound and Blood Purifier I feel all right. Your medicines are worth their weight in gold."—Mrs. GASTON BOURGEOIS, 1841 Polymnia St., New Orleans, La.

LETTER FROM FLORIDA.
Wauchula, Fla.—"Some time ago I wrote to you giving you my symptoms, headache, backache, bearing-down, and discomfort in walking, caused by female troubles.

"I got two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Sensitive Wash and that was all I used to make me a well woman. "I am satisfied that I had done like a good many women, and had not taken your remedies, I would have been a great sufferer. But I started in time with the right medicine and got well. It did not cost very much either. I feel that you are a friend to all women and I would rather use your remedies than have a doctor."—Mrs. MATTIE HODGSON, Box 406, Wauchula, Florida.

LETTER FROM WEST VIRGINIA.
Martinsburg, W. Va.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done wonders for my mother, daughter and myself. "I have told dozens of people about it and my daughter says that when she hears a girl complaining with cramps, she tells her to take your Compound."—Mrs. MARY A. HOOVER, 712 N. 3rd St., Martinsburg, W. Va.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM VIRGINIA.
Newport News, Va.—"About five years ago I was troubled with such pains and bleeding every month that I would have to go to bed. "A friend told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon found relief. The medicine strengthened me in every way and my doctor approved of my taking it.

"I will be glad if my testimony will help some one who is suffering from female weakness."—Mrs. W. J. BLAYTON, 1029 Hampton Ave., Newport News, Va.

RIVER AND HARBOR REPORT IS MADE

Figures Show That $3,500,000 Has Been Expended on Oakland Side.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—In response to a resolution of the Senate, Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh transmitted to Congress a detailed statement of the national expenditures for the improvement of rivers and harbors since the founding of the government.

The total expenditures to the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, exclusive of the Panama canal, is $27,088,235. Of this sum $14,805,144 was expended in California.

Of all the large harbors of the United States, San Francisco was the least in need of government improvement. Only $37,801 has been expended by the government at San Francisco. Nearly $3,500,000 has been expended for the improvement of Oakland harbor, while San Pedro has cost the government about $3,000,000.

Figures indicate and have used up $2,297,144, while slightly over $1,000,000 has been expended on the improvement of Sacramento river. Other river and harbor expenditures run from $500 to $500,000.

Michigan is first in the list of States with a total river and harbor expenditure by the government of $43,494,495. New York is a close second with nearly $45,000,000.

SAN JOAQUIN SHIP CANAL IS BROADENED

FRESNO, March 14.—A movement was launched yesterday by officers of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce to construct a drainage and ship canal through central California by joint action of all the counties of the valley.

As a first step a call is to be made for a revival of the old San Joaquin Commercial Association which was supported by all the Chambers of Commerce of this part of the State, and a meeting will be held in this city within three weeks to discuss and decide upon the most feasible methods of financing the canal undertaking.

The general idea is to have a canal constructed from the bed of old Tulare Lake to the sea. Whether the canal will utilize the bed of the San Joaquin river from Firebaugh or some other point will be determined by engineers according to its advisability.

MILLIONAIRE ARRESTED ON INEBRIETY CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—Millionaire J. H. Pryor, a former Pasadena newspaper owner and a traveled man of broad culture and education, who says he was for 20 years a judge on the bench in San Francisco, was arrested at his home in a local hotel on a warrant charging inebriety. The complaint was issued by Judge Horton of the superior court and is sworn to by Mrs. Pryor. Deputy sheriffs placed the alleged victim of drink in an automobile and tened to a sanatorium near Sierra Madre. There he will be detained and given treatment until Friday, when he will be given a hearing at the county hospital before Judge Horton. If his condition warrants, he may be committed to the Southern California State Hospital for the Insane at Patton.

R. R. ENGINEERS PRESENT DEMANDS

Eastern Men Want the Wages Brought to Level of the Western Schedule.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Arguments supporting their demand for increased wages were prepared by a committee of railway locomotive engineers headed by Walter S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, for submission today at a joint conference with a committee of officials of 48 eastern railroads.

The engineers desire the increase in order that their wages may be brought to a level of those paid on roads west of the Mississippi river. Several days will be taken in order to permit the railroads to formulate a reply.

COST OF LIVING IS TOPIC OF PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Figures and Data Gathered Abroad Given Out by Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The president, in a special message to Congress, transmitted the first installment of the information collected by the department of state in regard to co-operation and the cost of living in various European countries. The department, by direction of the president, instructed the consular officers to make the investigation. The results of the inquiry are summed up in a letter from acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson, which is submitted with the consular reports and with a summary of their contents.

The president in his message says that the popular demand for information of this character apparently was based on the belief that some remedy might be found for the high cost of living. The immediate result of the inquiries through the consular officers was to accentuate the fact that the increase in the prices of the common necessities of life is world-wide and that it is an absorbing question with the co-operative associations.

Intelligence presented by the co-operative societies shows that even where there has been an advance in wages, the percentage has not kept pace with the rise in the cost of food and other necessities. The president says that the information collected by the state department is a permanent contribution to the history of the efforts of producers and consumers to solve for themselves the economic problems of production, distribution and consumption.

DERIVING INSTRUCTION. "If the co-operative associations that have been in existence for half a century have not been able to determine the fundamental causes of the increased cost of living or to retard the advance, the student of social progress may at least derive instruction from the account of the associations and their influence on the well-being of their members," says the message.

The consular general at London, forwarded a table prepared by the co-operative wholesale societies, which exhibited the increased cost of certain articles in the United Kingdom since 1898. From a summary of rates of wages, it was developed that the per cent of increase in certain trades from 1898 to 1901 was 11.1 and in food prices 19.5. The wages of railway employees during this period has increased only 7.3 per cent. It is noted that the increased registration of co-operative societies in recent years probably is due to the impetus given to the organization of co-operative agricultural societies through the parent agricultural organization society. The co-operative agricultural societies are aided by the parent society in negotiations with the various co-operatives, government departments and business houses. They are organized in much the same manner as distributive societies, supplies of all kinds are purchased jointly at wholesale.

OPPOSITION LOOSENEED. Opposition on the part of non-co-operative tradesmen is now decidedly less intense than in the earlier stages of the movement, the consular officers report, but a widespread antagonism still exists among British shopkeepers, and criticism is constant and searching. The claim is made by opposing interests that co-operative trading cannot compete with legitimate retail trade, and in support of this contention figures are given of grocers' prices and of co-operative society prices of various food products in which the grocers' figures are less than those of the co-operative societies. It is noted in reference to criticism of this character that the co-operative societies do not undertake to sell at lower than current prices, their method being to give the purchaser the benefit claimed for co-operative purchasers by returning it in the form of a dividend.

The critics of the co-operative movement allege that these dividends are obtained by sacrificing the purity and excellence of the merchandise furnished or by actual raising of the price to compensate for the amount of the dividends. The majority of the consular reports seem to inter that the dividends paid to co-operative members measure roughly a reduction in the prices of the commodities bought.

Consumers' coal associations recently have succeeded in a number of British cities. A representative organization of this type in London operates by securing competitive tenders from coal merchants each summer, and, when prices have thus been ascertained, furnishing the blanks to the co-operative societies. The latter contract for the next winter's supply. The saving on coal has varied recently from 80 cents to $1.50 per ton, according to the grade and other circumstances.

BREATH OF WITNESS BARRED BY COURT

SAN JOSE, March 14.—Judge P. F. Coffey refused to force a witness to parade back and forth in front of the jury box in the superior court yesterday so that the jurors could smell liquor on his breath. Jack Harrison, a cowboy, and friend of the late Carl Newhall, was testifying regarding the alleged shooting at Newhall's home in which both men and women participated. Hiram Blanchard, attorney for Mrs. Grace Ryder, Newhall's half-sister, sole beneficiary under his will, stepped close to Harrison and charged him with being intoxicated. He then asked the mother of the deceased to step forward and prove Newhall incompetent to make a will by reason of gross intemperance.

CANADA HAS LARGE SURPLUS

Annual Financial Statement Shows $39,000,000; a Record Amount.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 14.—The annual financial statement of the country, presented to the House of Commons by Finance Minister T. W. White, estimates that the surplus for the fiscal year, which ends March 31, will be $39,000,000, the largest on record.

Out of this surplus the minister has been able to provide for the amount expended during the year on the national transcontinental railway and other important public works, and there remains, he estimates, a balance of $19,000,000 to the reduction of the net public debt.

During the first three months of the present year Canada's foreign trade amounted to $711,189,602, the volume having about doubled since 1900. The changes are announced in the Canadian tariff, the minister stating that a revision would be undertaken "when the proposition of the commission has had an opportunity of investigating conditions and making recommendations."

WRECK IS BLAMED ON BROKEN RAIL

Inspectors Will Trace Steel to Mill Where It Was Made.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The announcement of yesterday's wreck of the Twentieth Century Flyer, as posted on the bulletin-board at the Grand Central station today, is accompanied by this statement: "Accident evidently caused by broken rail, laid new in 1910."

Three inspectors sent by the Interstate Commerce Commission will trace the rail back to the mill where it was made. Their work will not be completed for some weeks. Railroad men here today, commenting on the wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited at Poughkeepsie, noted that, although eleven trains, commonly classed as "fast" trains, have been wrecked on the railroads of the United States and Canada since January 1, the total death toll was only twenty-five. That it is not many times that number is attributed to the use of steel cars.

In one previous wreck, that of the Santa Express at Erie, Pa., on October 24, 1897, that number were killed, nearly all the fatalities occurring in the car wood or on the tracks surrounding the wreck were almost identical with those of yesterday's catastrophe. In six of the eleven accidents of this year not a life was lost, in practically all the elements were present that, except for the steel cars, would have made heavy fatalities probable.

FASHION TEMPLE AT NEW YORK SHOW

Opening of Woman's Industrial Exhibition Calls Out Several Thousands.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The opening of the Woman's Industrial Exhibition, the first event of its kind ever held in this country, attracted a crowd of several thousand people to the new Grand Central Palace this afternoon. For the most part the attendance was made up of women shoppers who wanted to see just what had been accomplished by their sex in the various lines of industry, and at the same time find out what kind of an exhibition it could possibly be that is conducted entirely by women, without any masculine help whatsoever.

The great floor space of the new Grand Central Palace has been systematically divided into sectional groups, which are being utilized by the various factories and departments of the exhibition. As becomes a project conducted by women, one of the big features of the exhibition is the Temple of Fashion, where 25 beautiful and statuesque living models may be seen, adorned in the very latest and handsomest creations adapted to each period of the day. Needless to say, the Temple of Fashion was the arena for 50 per cent of today's attendance. Besides the models exhibiting the newest works of the dictators of fashion, there are a number of pretty girls who give tableaux-like illustrations of the history of dress from the mediæval period to the present time. Lectures on the art of dress are delivered by an expert at regular intervals.

One section of the exhibition illustrates the last decade of woman's work in the progress in the world. Comparative conditions in the methods used by women in housekeeping and earning a livelihood at the present time and years ago are shown in tableaux and photographs, and specimens of work that has been accomplished by women in the various branches of industry, philanthropy, education and science.

Another department is given over to the innovations and suggestions of women in housekeeping, homebuilding, furniture, rugs, all sorts of household repairs, farming, book binding, kindergarten work and general municipal cleanliness.

The exhibition is being held under the auspices of 10 leading women's organizations of the city, and is being conducted with the personal help of 200 of New York's most prominent women, including Mrs. E. H. Harriman, Mrs. J. B. Hays, Mrs. W. L. Garrison, Mrs. W. L. Garrison, Mrs. Cleveland Moffett, Mrs. H. G. Gary, Mrs. William Loeb, Mrs. Henry Phelps and Mrs. Samuel Untermyer.

PIGS IS PIGS—EVEN THOSE OF THIS LODGE

OCEAN PARK, March 14.—"Pigs is pigs" and the local Masons know it. Without a cent of investment or labor the Ocean Lodge No. 123, of the O. E. S. has become the owner of a considerable herd of pigs and may engage in the pork raising business for profit. Two years ago by way of a joke the Golden Gate lodge of Los Angeles presented the local Masons with a cut little white pig as a mascot. The secretary, Charles A. Thatcher, carried the squealing animal home under his arm. It was kept on a city lawn and eventually became the mother of nine more squealers, which are now growing so large that the lodge finds it necessary to lease ground upon which to keep its increasing herd. Some members have proposed to erect a pigsty on the grounds of the lodge, while others favor more pigs—live ones.

PERISHES IN STORM

QUINCY, March 14.—Pat Hewitt of Laporte, Ind., attempted to walk to his mine, twelve miles from town, to Laporte during a storm and was overcome on the trail. He was overtaken by a mail carrier on skis several miles from Laporte, but the mail carrier also was nearly overcome and could not render aid. The carrier arrived exhausted in Laporte and gave notice of Hewitt's condition. A party set out immediately and found him, but he died soon after being brought to town. He was 45 years old and unmarried.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded If It Fails.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup, and gives you about 60 doses compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other troubles. Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 3 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 5 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Shake a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

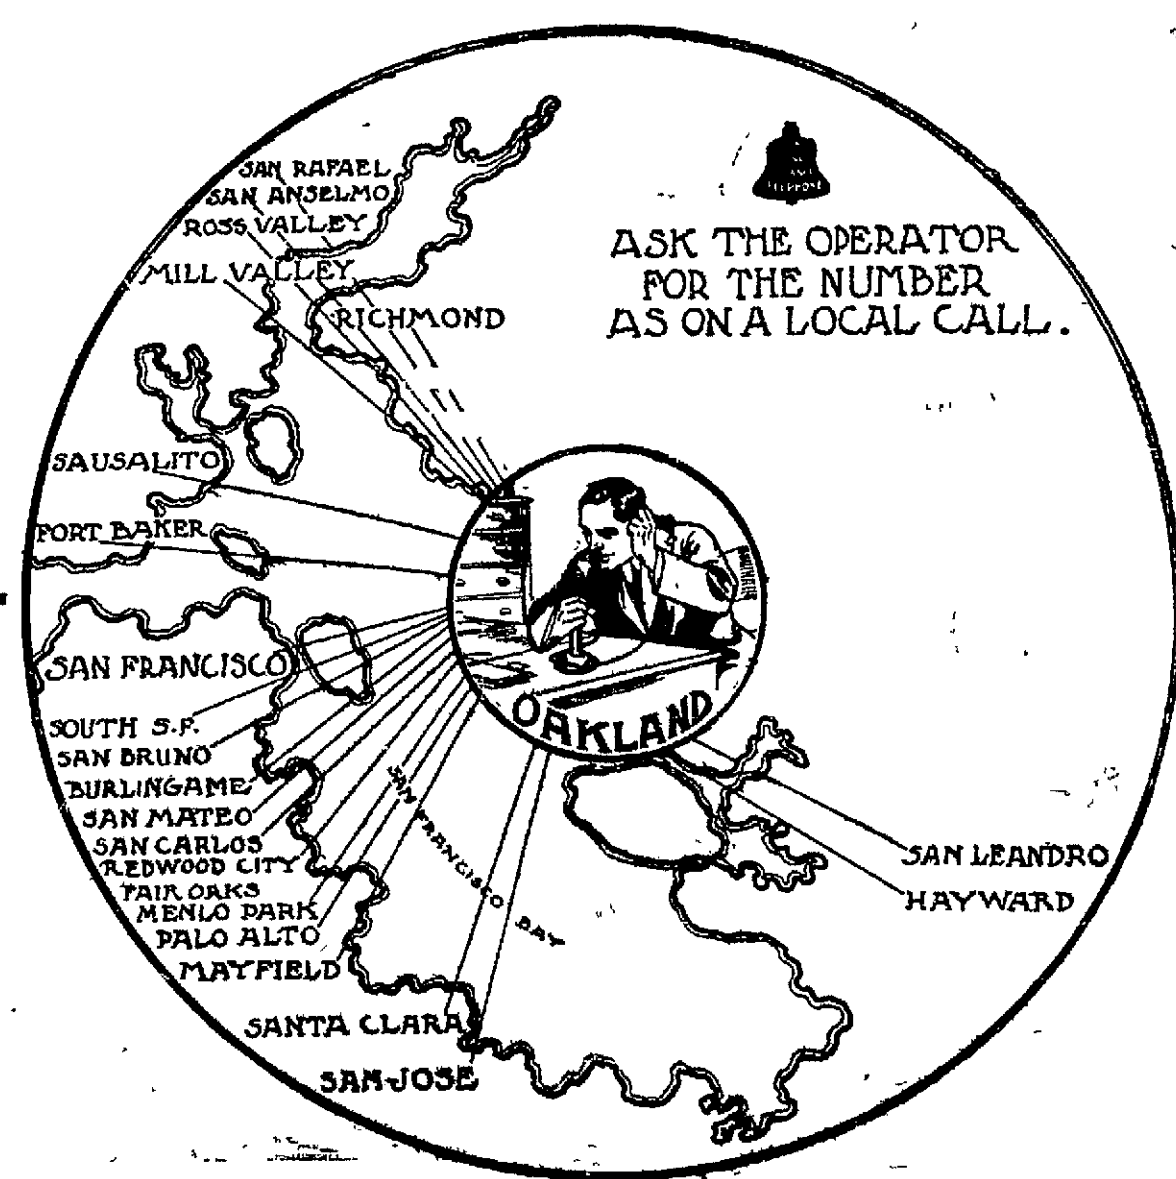

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features. Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in vitamin and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A quantity of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ROY PIERCE ELOPES WITH HIS OWN STEPSISTER

Oil Magnate's Son Takes New Bride After He Is Freed From Actress.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14.—Roy E. Pierce, son of Henry Clay Pierce, Standard Oil magnate, whose home is at 15 East Twenty-seventh street, New York, eloped on Tuesday night with his stepsister, Miss Virginia Burroughs. Pierce is about 24 years old. His bride is two years his junior.

Since coming to Palm Beach, a month ago young Pierce had a former marriage with Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, a Boston actress, declared void.

His runaway match so upset his father, who brought about the annulment of the former union, so it was said on good authority last night, by paying Mrs. Chapman $100,000, that he looked himself in his apartments and refused to see friends. From what could be heard from the hall it was evident he was having a stormy time with his family.

The elder Pierce exclaimed to a close friend, it is reported: "I don't like it. The boy has been drinking again."

"I first heard of their reported engagement two months ago, before the courts had ruled with the marriage. I wrote them both about it and they denied it."

"I honestly did not believe that they were engaged."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pierce left the resort for St. Augustine, though their parents are remaining here. They went over to West Palm Beach on Tuesday afternoon and were married by the Rev. Edwin Waldo.

The Rev. Mr. Waldo, who formerly had a church in Boston, said he had no hesitancy in marrying them, because he knew of the families of both.

The bride had pleaded for the match, according to his story, saying that they had been engaged for some time and were anxious to begin their honeymoon in the South.

Miss Cameron Wins

NEW YORK, March 14.—A settlement has been made by the heirs of the late Edwin R. Hawley upon Miss Margaret Cameron, whose real name is Emma Sturges, by which the railroad men's "ward" will receive an annual income of $25,000 from the Hawley estate for the rest of her life, whether she is ever married or not.

Editham Towers, the financier's magnificent country estate at Babylon, L. I. and his city residence at 19 East Sixteenth street, together valued conservatively at $1,000,000, the contents of both houses have already been deeded by the heirs to her.

This statement was made yesterday by John B. Stanchfield, attorney for the heirs.

In a letter, witnessed by John Williams and Henry Peterson, the financier's head gardener and chauffeur, respectively, and addressed to his heirs, Hawley requested that Miss Sturges be provided for in the event of his death.

It is rumored that Miss Sturges will become the bride of Peterson, the chauffeur.

Emma Sturges was born about forty years ago in Homestead, N. J. She has two sisters, Mae and Grace. The family was poor. She became a school teacher.

There are two stories of how Edwin Hawley discovered her. One is that the mother, being in desperate financial difficulties, appealed to him as an old friend from Chatham to take the girl and care for her. Another is that Hawley, in looking over some rights of way to a railroad in West Hoboken, was smitten with the fresh and winsome school marm. Emma gave up her school and disappeared.

Four years ago her mother died. Poverty followed her to the grave. If Emma profited by the guardianship of Hawley the mother did not, nor did her sisters. Emma Sturges has been one dead to the family for these twenty years and today her sister, Mae, disowned her.

Woman Is Missing

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—The police of every city in the state were telegraphed today in an effort to locate Miss Josie Ramsey, a handsome young woman of this city, who is believed to have been kidnapped. Miss Ramsey, in whose family here has been much sickness, sought to help pay expenses by working outside the city that night. She went to an employment agency Monday morning. An appointment was made for her in the afternoon with a man who gave the name of Wilson, said he was a heavy oil operator at Maricopa and wanted a housekeeper there.

Miss Ramsey, however, had no references, and he said he could furnish them if she would accompany him to Sawtelle in his automobile. She stepped into the machine, and from that moment her relatives and friends have not heard from her. As much as she had been arranged to be back at 4 o'clock that day, it is feared she has fallen into designing hands and that the Sawtelle trip was a trap. Her mother and sister are prostrated.

The missing woman is 25, blonde, dark eyes, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs 120 pounds and wears a light suit and black beaver hat.

Sues Railroad

AUBURN, March 14.—Margaret Cary has filed suit against the Southern Pacific Company and Erickson Peterson for $2500 damage to her olive orchard at the Levittum ranch, one mile north of town. She claims the damage was done by the vibration of the blasting in tunnel 8 and by the smoke from oil burners. This has been one of the show ranches in Placer county. The Southern Pacific Company paid Mrs. Cary $1000 for the right of way through the ranch, and she claims the surface above the right of way and above damages for the above amount of the claim.

CHARACTERISTICS OF BEAUTY

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

AN eminent physician stated in a recent publication that "physiognomy was absolutely no indication of anything within. That a human face and form mean nothing as a guide to intellect or character."

This doctor does not blame people for wanting to be attractive, nor does he wonder that they strive by preparations and massage to be so. Yet he recommends "A steady, years-long inward life and purpose of sweet and kindly thoughts will creep out and will make an invisible but none the less perceptible halo around any face." Thus, contradicting his first statement that "physiognomy is a fraud."

I am a great believer in the face as an index to the soul. And I know that faces change with beauty of thought and disposition. There is no doubt of that fact, for we see samples of the truth of it every day.

As an illustration, take the case of an ugly, hard working, hard faced man, and let a lucky stroke of fortune come to him and you will see his face change from that of a hard, hopeless, despondent dyspeptic in appearance to a cheerful, laughing, good-natured, hopeful countenance.

His face changes with his thoughts. His outlook upon the world from within has set its stamp upon his outward appearance, in expression of face and gait of carriage.

Take the case of a thin, cadaverous, shy, plain, hopeless girl, fill her with hope in all of her ambitions, teach her correct diet, fill out her hollow cheeks, and let some nice man care for her, and she is another personality, reflecting in her face the joy, ambition, and happiness that is in her heart.

Of course there are clever men and women who deliberately disguise their expressions and purposely appear most indifferent when they are most anxious, and most suave when they most dislike you in their hearts. But these people have cultivated that deception. And like actors learn to express the various emotions necessary in the representation of the characters they are obliged to portray.

Imagination can alter a face to depict any manner of thought. The face expresses every thought. Wicked, jealous, revengeful thoughts make any face, no matter how sweet or mild, fierce and ugly.

Remember: The rule works both ways. Love, kindness, truth and consideration make any face beautiful.

XANTHIA—There is absolutely no harm in the use of pure cocoa butter (used externally) to put on flesh. I have known of cases where doctors prescribed cocoa butter or coconut oil to invalids for massage, to strengthen and build them up.

Z. W.—I would not advise a young girl to use powder of any kind, but if you think you need it, use a pure rice powder. I will be pleased to send you a cream which is excellent for the skin and will prevent the face from looking rough when powder is applied, if you will write me again, asking for it, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

R. T.—Don't under any circumstances attempt to remove the mole yourself. Go to an electrolysis operator and have it removed by electricity. This is the safest way. However, if the mole projects it can be easily removed by tying a white silk thread as near its base as possible. This stops all nourishment and in a few days the mole will turn black and drop off. Do not prick it with a needle or irritate it in any way, for not infrequently they cause malignant growths.

Many Freshmen girls of the John C. Fremont High school will play on the basketball team this season. SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—The interference of the several hundred amateur of student wireless operators along the Pacific Coast will, it is feared, result in great loss of life, according to R. Y. Cadmus, United States wireless ship inspector.

Cadmus announced yesterday that during the past sixty days he has forwarded to Commissioner of Navigation, E. T. Chamberlain at Washington, more than 2000 complaints which have been accumulated by the different commercial and navy stations along the coast, since last November.

These complaints show that not only do the students make it impossible to receive and transmit messages at times, but often attempts have been made to intercept the commercial operators by sending from the amateur stations messages of "SOS" which are purported to come from steamers in distress.

In other cases when vessels have been trying to send word of disaster at sea the interference has delayed the actual delivery of the message for hours.

A complaint from the United Wireless Company states that when the Alaska Pacific steamer M. P. Plant was crippled off Point Reyes last November by the breaking of the crank shaft, the tactics of the student wireless operators made it impossible to save the message for over an hour.

REVERE MEMORY OF FOUNDER OF THE TRIBUNE

EMPLOYEES AT BANQUET BOARD

Newspapermen Pay Tribute to Late Employer on Birthday Anniversary.

Elaborate Spread Given in the Key-Route Inn by Directors of Company.

A tribute to the memory of the late William E. Dargie, founder of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, and a symbol of that loyalty and harmony inspired by the founder of the paper in all who came in contact with him, representatives of every department of The Tribune Publishing Company gathered at the first annual banquet given by the board of directors of the firm at the Key Route Inn last night. The banquet, held in commemoration of the birthday of the founder of the paper, was marked by a spirit of good fellowship and camaraderie rarely to be found on any newspaper or on any other enterprise not imbued with a spirit of pioneer solidarity.

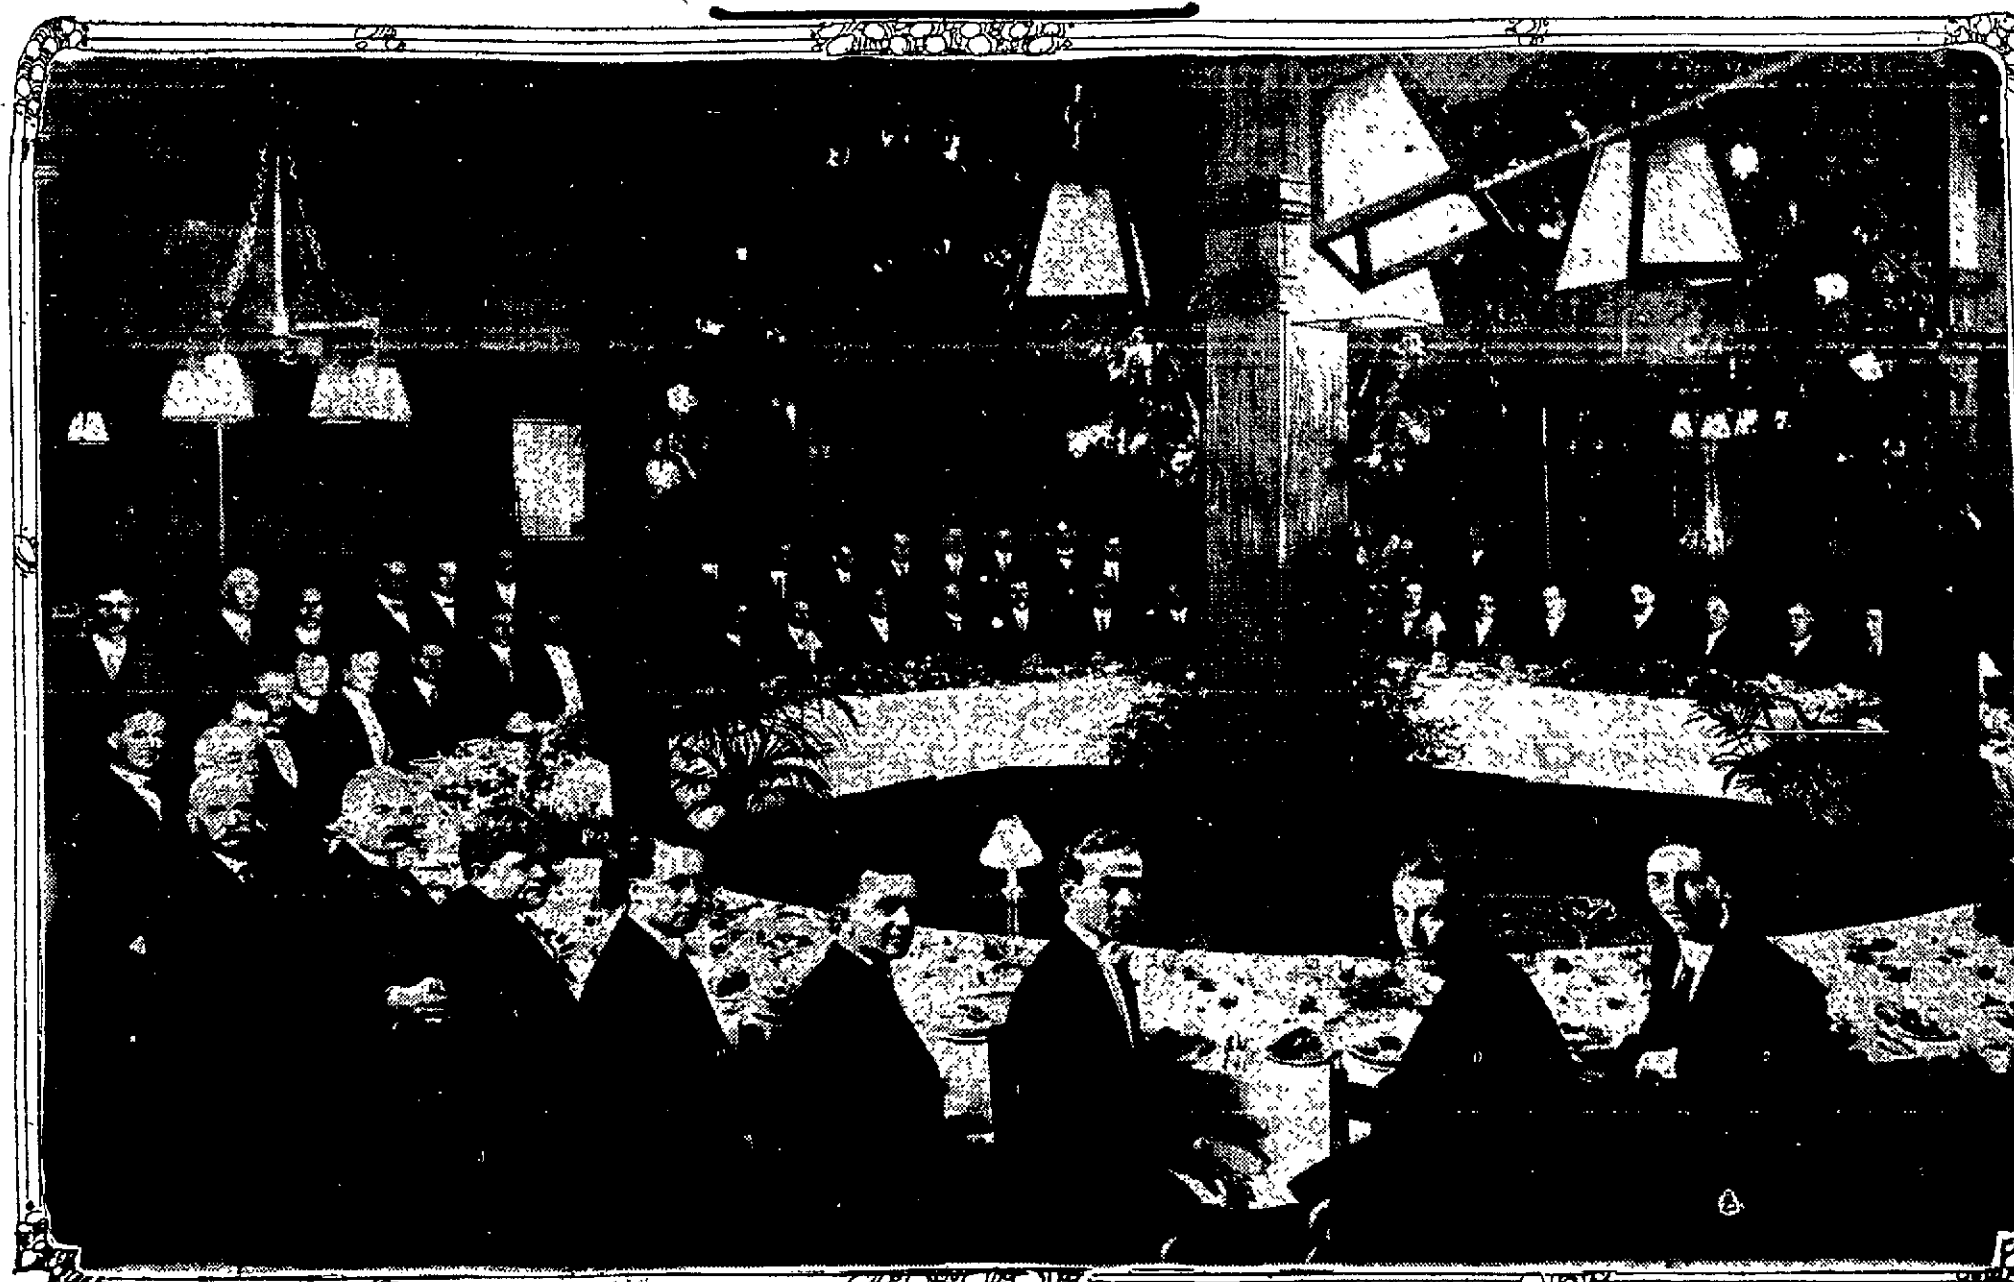

The dinner was the occasion of rejoicing and mutual felicitation on the part of the directors of the company, as THE TRIBUNE has just passed through the most successful year in the history of the paper, and is on a financial footing that assures the fulfillment of its promise to become one of the greatest papers in any American city. Men who had been with the company for years, who had worked unselfishly through the dark days, when it was the courage and mastery of the founder alone which saved the enterprise from disaster, last night cast their eyes back along the long road up which THE TRIBUNE has marched to its present success, and paid their mead of praise to the man who had wrought success and achievement out of the hardest conditions and at times the most discouraging material.

WORDS OF CHEER.
"Well done, my boys, well done!" These are the words with which the founder of THE TRIBUNE, affectionately held in memory by the members of the staff as "the old man," was wont to greet his employees when the paper had won in some battle for progress and welfare, or had achieved a step forward in his march toward success. And these were the words which Toastmaster Joseph E. Baker quoted to the men gathered round the big circle of tables at the Key Route Inn last night as the message that would have been pronounced by "the old man" could he have been among them.

The first annual dinner was a splendid success in every way, from the spirit which had prompted it, and which imbued every word that was spoken with a certain dignity and worth, to the minor details of dainty viands and artistic surroundings which formed the material setting for the gathering.

VETERANS IN SERVICE.

Around the board were gathered veterans who had been with THE TRIBUNE since its early beginnings; men who had grown gray in the service; and rubbing shoulders with these men whose loyalty had been tested by years of service were young men eager to try their mettle in forwarding the work so successfully begun. They came from every department, ranging from the president of the company down through the mechanical, editorial, circulation, advertising, jobbing and other branches of the big plant created by the genius of the late William E. Dargie.

At the close of the banquet when addresses had been made by heads of departments, when the story of the great success of the newspaper had been told and the achievements of the last year recorded, when fitting tribute had been paid to the memory of the founder, Toastmaster Joseph E. Baker arose, and, holding his wine glass before him in token that he was about to propose a toast named after the founder of the paper, as the final toast of the evening.

TOAST TO MRS. DARGIE.
There was silence for a moment and then the men around the table arose from their seats and silently emptied their glasses to the toast: Mrs. W. E. Dargie.

Earlier in the evening, at the opening of the banquet, Toastmaster Baker had read a telegram from Mrs. Dargie, expressing her best wishes and felicitations to the members of the staff gathered at the first annual banquet, and a response had been drafted, thanking Mrs. Dargie in the name of the employees of the paper. Not a shadow was cast upon the spirit of the gathering to mar the occasion. Men who had worked together and who had tried each other's worth in the most intimate manner were gathered about the board. Out of the numerous representatives from every department no individual was present who was not ready to testify to the manhood of every man with whom he had come in contact on the paper. Battles had been fought among the members of this small army, as well as battles with the outside world and with conditions, but in every case, although differences had existed, the spirit of fairness and loyalty had triumphed, and the men stood together in the end, holding each other in respect and good fellowship.

SPIRIT OF HARMONY.
That the spirit of harmony, the "get-together" spirit, of the gathering was due in large measure to the genius of the founder of the paper in choosing men, and that this spirit had meant the splendid success of the paper, was agreed by those who attended the affair. An intimate and direct control over every department, and over the details of the running of every department, was exercised by Mr. Dargie during his life, and it was thought by many that when his guiding hand was removed the affairs of the firm would not run so smoothly. But the master hand and master brain had foreseen the future, and had placed in control a body of men who could work together so well that his plans for the future were carried out in spirit and were made the basis for a year of unparalleled success for his paper.

The banquet last night formed a fitting symbol of this work and of the achievements of the paper. No detail, no matter how minute, was overlooked in the preparation for the affair. Henry Barker, manager of the Key Route Inn, placed the big banquet room of the place at the disposal of THE TRIBUNE and personally attended to the details of artistic decoration. A circle of tables, forming one giant table round, was erected in the room, and furnished with fitting service. In the center festoons of greens and ferns swung from column to column, and from these dropped delicately shaded incandescent globes to illuminate the scene.

During the banquet music was provided by a small orchestra under the direction of Professor Franz Mayer. Operatic numbers from "Lucia," "Rigoletto," "Le Bohème," "Pagliacci" and "Les Contes d'Hoffmann," as well as selections from light operas and popular music, were rendered. Several encores were called for and given.

A feature of the evening consisted in the artistic programs, menus and place cards. A menu printed on fine stock and showing the highest reach of the printer's art was also remarkable for the cleverness of the design of the ideas expressed in it. The place cards consisted of diminutive facsimiles of the front page of THE TRIBUNE.

TOASTMASTER SPEAKS.
The postprandial section of the program included responses to toasts from the heads of departments. Toastmaster Baker, in opening the toastmaking, said:

"This is a social gathering for good."

The following reply was sent to Mrs. W. E. Dargie:

MRS. W. E. DARGIE SENDS GREETINGS TO BANQUETERS

Telegram received from Mrs. W. E. Dargie:

B. A. Forsterer, Secretary Oakland Tribune, Oakland, Cal.

I am with you all in spirit at your joyous banquet. The motto of your late founder and friend whose natal day and memory you have combined to perpetuate so fittingly, "Concentration, Persistence and Harmony," be your keynote for your successes now and in future. I send my appreciation and kindest regards to all.

MRS. W. E. DARGIE.

The following reply was sent to Mrs. W. E. Dargie:

MRS. W. E. DARGIE, Plaza Hotel, New York, New York.

Thanking you for your kind words of greeting the officers and employees of the Oakland Tribune wish to assure you of their unceasing loyalty to the memory of your late husband and of their untiring efforts to continue successfully the great newspaper in which you have so large an interest.

M. C. CHAPMAN, President.

B. A. FORSTERER, Secretary.

fellowship. I remember a former occasion when the late William E. Dargie was present. The employees of the paper had gathered to compliment him upon the success of the paper and to congratulate him upon the crowning achievement of a life of endeavor. We have again come together to manifest our gratification in the success which has survived from the work of the founder of THE TRIBUNE.

"The paper is now more prosperous than it has ever been before. Could Mr. Dargie have been present among us tonight he would have said 'Well done, boys, well done.'"

"Any great enterprise must survive its founder, must last and move forward beyond the lifetime of the men who gave it the first impetus. It is because this enterprise is in truth representative of the people at large that it has endured and become an institution of permanent value to the community."

REMARKS BY MR. CHAPMAN.
Touching upon the occasion of the banquet, a commemoration of the life and success of William E. Dargie, Chapman said:

"What our worthy toastmaster, Mr. Baker, has just expressed about our former friend and employer, whose name we honor and revere tonight, I wish to echo. I think William E. Dargie was a wonderful man and the founder of a great paper that has not yet reached the heights of its destiny. Its present destiny is in large measure due to its owner for so many years and to the men whom he selected to help carry on his work and the work of his paper after him."

"It is true," the speaker continued, "that I am president of the Tribune Publishing Company, but I am discreet enough to let the men selected by Mr. Dargie to carry on the organization run things. That they have done so so successfully speaks both for the man and for the mind who is now no longer with us except in the spirit of his work."

LIKE COGS IN WHEEL.
Following the address by President Chapman, which was roundly applauded, John F. Connors, managing editor, was introduced. He said:

"The words of the president of the State University are the most fitting and pleasant I can say to you: 'It is good to be here.' I have been connected with THE TRIBUNE for 21 years and I have come to feel that this enterprise is like some great piece

Seattle Times. THE TRIBUNE in the past year has done the largest business in its history.
FOR GREATER SUCCESS.
Alex Dols, superintendent of the mechanical departments and member of the board of directors, was then introduced.

"Each and everyone of us," he said, "who knew Mr. Dargie is interested in continuing and contributing to his work. Success in it to a large extent depends on the harmony with which all branches of the enterprise work and which prevails in the local offices. It is my wish and hope that the present harmonious relations shall continue and work to the greater success of this great enterprise."

B. A. FORSTERER.
Introduced as the "ghost who walks weekly," B. A. Forsterer, secretary and treasurer of the publishing company and personal representative of Mrs. W. E. Dargie in THE TRIBUNE interests, spoke in part as follows:

"My feelings have been touched tonight. Usually I am not affected emotionally, but when tonight I stood and looked backward about three years, I remember an occasion similar to this when we were with our late beloved friend, Mr. Dargie. Emotions come, also, because I remember a time, a little more than one year ago, when the time came that Mr. Dargie was no longer with us, leaving a feeling of uncertainty as to the future of his great work."

"But that feeling tonight is entirely gone, and so we are gathered here not only to commemorate the birthday anniversary of the man who made THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE what it is, but also to hold a genuine of machinery and that we are all small cogs and wheels necessary to its perfect operation.

"If but one cog goes wrong something happens which is a detriment to the whole machine. On an evening paper time is the essence of everything, and no part, no matter how small, but must be reliable and loyal to its individual service."

"THE TRIBUNE has had great success, probably the greatest ever achieved in a like space of time. It is because we have worked together and in harmony that this has been possible."

"I can remember years ago, when I was city editor and reporter and copy boy and half a dozen other things, the small body of men who held together to give this paper life. There was hardly a man among us who could not have commanded higher pay elsewhere, but a spirit of loyalty and faith in the promise of the future kept us to our task unflinchingly."

"For this spirit of loyalty Mr. Dargie was responsible. In the 21 years in which I was associated with him there was never an unkind word. I know of no paper where harmony prevails as it has existed on THE TRIBUNE. I think that it is because of this that we have one of the best editorial staffs around the bay."

"In my estimation THE TRIBUNE is the best evening paper published west of Chicago, taking it as to quality and as to size. We measure up 70 columns of advertising matter, we give 30 or 40 or 100 columns of news. In truth we always figure on trying to give our readers two columns of news for one column of ads. Our nearest competitor is perhaps the

STUDENTS WOULD REDEEM THEMSELVES AT FREMONT'ONE DAY ENOUGH' SAYS PRINCIPAL

The "Ragging" at High School Leads to Much Sighing and Many Promises.

MELROSE, March 13.—The students of the Fremont high school, headed by Ray Ogden and Miss Ione Kilgore, after a meeting held yesterday to condemn the action of those who "ragged" during the "self government day" of the school, formally petitioned P. S. Rosseter, the principal, for another "student government day" in which to redeem themselves. The request will be forwarded to the board of education by Rosseter, who is, however, of the opinion that it will be denied.

"One such day is enough in a year," he stated, "although after what has happened, of course, discipline would be exemplified."

The meeting adopted a resolution censuring their schoolmates who had made the day a failure.

The students who were concerned in the dancing affair were withdrawn from the school at the suggestion of Rosseter, who, in consultation with the parents, suggested that this would be a better method of punishing them than bringing the matter before the school authorities and suspending or expelling them. He stated that if they give assurance of better behavior they will probably be allowed to return to their classes after the term is over.

Among the students who are withdrawn from the school indefinitely are: Miss Ione Kilgore, daughter of M. J. Kilgore, a prominent Oakland merchant; Elmer Wilson, who acted as principal of the dance; Miss Kate Hoff, Miss Dorothy Lowell, Miss Ethel Perkins, Miss Roberta Green, Miss Vera Moffitt, Miss Vera McDougal, Clifford Cole, prominent school athlete, Charles Fern Douglas, Anso Weeks, Benjamin Manning and Roy Hillborn.

Indignation is rife among the students against those suspected of having called the attention of the principal to the affair. Yesterday rumors of threatened hearings were heard in all the classrooms, and a number of boys who were in the dancing waited at the principal's office for one of the youths whom they believed had made the affair public. It was only through the action of Principal Rosseter, who said the plan, that the scheme was frustrated.

Rosseter will not state where his information regarding the dance came from, but he declared that he was told by girls who were themselves in the dance. "They came to my house that night," he said, "because their consciences dictated it, and made a clean breast of the affair."

Miss Lucy Collins, one of the girls excluded from the dance, who was accused of having told the principal, denies connection with the affair, and declares that she has never discussed it with any teacher. Lulu Wells also states that she was not one of the informants. Rosseter bears them out. "These girls gave me no information," he stated.

Mrs. B. M. Cole of 2040 Twenty-second avenue, mother of Clifford Cole, states that she had not withdrawn her son from the school, and that she was unable to attend the meeting between the principal and the parents. She has left the matter entirely in Rosseter's hands. Mrs. C. A. Wilson, mother of the principal of the day, has also left the entire matter to Rosseter.

RUMORS OF HAZING. Rumors of hazing are still being heard on the school campus, but Rosseter states that any report of such an occurrence will have serious effects. He states that summary action will be taken in case such an affair takes place and that it will probably mean expulsion for those withdrawn as well as any others connected with the act.

The students themselves as a whole at the meeting yesterday stated that they would not permit any attempt at vengeance on "the preachers."

get-together meeting over the success of the paper. The board of directors wanted to meet in an informal way representatives of each department of the paper and to let representatives of each department get better acquainted with one another.

"Now a newspaper combines many complex departments, each of which is in a sense a separate department. It is necessary for all these to get together and work together to produce a newspaper. It is not one man, not the editor or the printer, who makes the paper, but all these men working together in harmony. A paper may be compared to a clock, each wheel of which is needed to make a successful timepiece. If you take one small wheel out, the whole is a failure. The management is the pendulum which moves with precision and regulates the whole."

This harmony we have succeeded in getting during the past year, and out of the harmony we have succeeded in bringing THE TRIBUNE forward progressively and aggressively, making it the best it has ever been in all its career."

F. L. Hall, advertising manager, introduced by Toastmaster Baker as "the man who gets the money to make the ghost walk," continued the tone of eulogium to the memory of the late employer. He said in getting during the past year, and out of the harmony we have succeeded in bringing THE TRIBUNE forward progressively and aggressively, making it the best it has ever been in all its career."

"As has been remarked, this occasion calls to mind a similar one of three years ago when Mr. Dargie, who was pre-eminently a friend of all of us, was with us. It is true he was our employer, but he was more than that, and in his loss we feel that we have lost a friend, even in a sense, a parent. So we are glad to meet here tonight to honor and revere his memory, and I am glad this is the inauguration of a series of such anniversary gatherings in memory of William E. Dargie."

In referring to the reverential feeling attendant on such a meeting as this, it has great practical value. By the use of co-operation, organization and systemization, much can be accomplished through the spirit aroused by such a gathering to the benefit of the great enterprise we represent."

PHRAISES CITY EDITOR.

In introducing Clarence H. Warren, city editor of THE TRIBUNE, Toastmaster Baker spoke of the fine character of the man, his high standing in the community, his love of his work, and with himself and Colonel John P. Irish, one of the three survivors of the staff of the old historic newspaper of the Golden State, the Alta California, Responding, City Editor Warren said:

"It is a pleasure to be present on the occasion of the commemoration of the birthday of Mr. Dargie. Although I have not been with THE TRIBUNE as long as some of the present, I feel a personal satisfaction in this tribute to the founder of the paper. He was a classmate of mine in the University of California and a member of the same fraternity."

"THE TRIBUNE was founded as a circular distributed free in Oakland, the founder being George B. Stanford, my father-in-law, and from that small circular it has grown under the hand of Mr. Dargie to its present commanding position. He had thirty years' experience in newspaper work, and have worked on almost every paper in this region. I have never found an aggregation of men so bound together by loyalty and harmony as the employees of THE TRIBUNE."

"The circulation department is the back door of a newspaper," said H. V. Parratt, circulation manager, by way of preface to his remarks. "Whatever goes wrong in an office, the buck is finally passed to it. But even there, under the employ of Mr. Dargie, I learned to love and admire him as the rest of you did, so much so that whether the ghost walked or not in the early days I would have stayed with him, no great feat, the affection all his men had for him."

"Fellow workers on the liveest thing in California," the salutation followed on his part, account of the beginnings of W. E. Dargie and his brother, T. T. Dargie, in the operation of THE TRIBUNE. Stuart said:

"My father was one of the early merchants of Oakland and I remember hearing him tell of the early days when he introduced the two Dargies as the coming proprietors of THE TRIBUNE, then a four-page folder, distributed gratuitously. From those small beginnings THE TRIBUNE has grown to be the present-day monument of the man whose birthday we celebrate tonight."

ONLY JOB DEPARTMENT.

G. Larsen, superintendent of the job department, alluded to by the toastmaster as head of the only department in THE TRIBUNE where jobs are put out, parodied "You've Got to Kick My Dog Around" in complaint of the treatment received for his department at the hands of the toastmaster.

JUST ONE PERSON
ABANDONS RECALL

Campaign to Invalidate Movement Still Far Short of Needed Support.

BERKELEY, March 14.—City Clerk Walter J. Schuchman completed his check of the names signed to the petition for a recall of Councilman John A. Wilson and School Directors J. S. Stern and Mrs. Elmer Wilson, and will present them to the council this afternoon. Despite the efforts that have been made to persuade signers to withdraw their signatures, but one has yet been received in the proper affidavit form by the city clerk. Over 140 withdrawals are needed to invalidate any one of the three sets of petitions.

Miss Leola Hall who has been instrumental in the circulation of a petition to persuade School Superintendent F. F. Bunker to resign, experts to present her petitions to him tomorrow. It is said there are more than 1500 names already on the list, and that the effort will be made to give up the office, unless forced to do so as a result of a "victory at the polls of the majority members of the school board."

If Stern, one of the directors against whom the recall movement is leveled, has issued a statement answering several criticisms, the school board is expected to make a decision on the matter. The majority members of the school board, "doing socialist politics" in the board, declares the majority members, are the lower high school plan instituted by Superintendent Bunker and denies any intention on the part of the majority members to punish Bunker's friends in the teaching staff by discharging them or reducing their salaries. In part the statement follows:

"We are not only not hostile to it, we regard it as our duty to support it to the utmost. We will not abandon it unless after years of a fair trial it should prove unprofitable and the people should demand its discontinuance."

"The whole matter is obscured now. The first need is investigation and publicity. I would suggest that if we are retained in our present positions, we should make a practical school people from the university or elsewhere be asked to investigate the present status of the plan and report on it. If the plan is to be continued, we do not regard the teachers in this controversy as adherents or opponents but merely as teachers who have but one obligation to us, that of making good in their work. As citizens and voters they are free to side with us or with Mr. Bunker as they see fit. We are not to be divided by any other class of citizenship and we do not intend to be divided by any other class of citizenship."

"I suggested that the schools were not the proper place for electioneering. We do not believe in electioneering. We would wish around with an ax? I know that Mr. Bunker does not believe it."

BERKELEY SOCIETY

BERKELEY, March 14.—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Reford, Mrs. Nicholson's mother, and the two children, Marjorie and Randolph, will leave Berkeley about the first of next week for a tour of the coast by automobile. No definite itinerary has been planned. The Nicholson home in Berkeley is now being prepared for the return of the travelers after months of touring abroad.

regular program of after-dinner speeches, Toastmaster Baker called upon several other speakers, including H. A. Kietzker, one of the oldest composers with THE TRIBUNE, F. J. Behre, foreman of the photo-engraving department, and W. W. Guthbert, president of Oakland Typographical Union, and a TRIBUNE employee.

"The center-energy in THE TRIBUNE is the spirit and mind of W. E. Dargie," Kietzker declared of his employer of many years. "I know this from personal experience. That controlling spirit is one of loyalty to friends, which has permeated the whole force of THE TRIBUNE and has brought it efficiency. The efficiency in all departments, the esprit de corps, the fraternalism, the 'get-together' spirit as we commonly call it, has been instilled by Dargie, who lives today as the center-dynamo, the soul-part of THE TRIBUNE."

Behre and Guthbert likewise took up upon this spirit. In fact, remarks Guthbert, speaking of this feeling, said:

"I have never seen a paper where there is a greater harmony, especially between the editorial and mechanical departments, than in THE TRIBUNE. In its career, to paraphrase Edward Everett Hale, THE TRIBUNE has advanced forward, not back; has gone upward, not down, and is always lending a hand."

IMMERSION TO BE DECIDED BY VOTE

Communicants at Berkeley Church to Ballot on the Disputed Points.

BERKELEY, March 14.—By vote of the members of the controversy in the First Christian church, started when the pastor, Rev. H. J. Loken, recently declared that he had the open door to the orthodox belief in the need of immersion in cases where communicants came from other churches and had already been otherwise baptized, it is to be settled by a vote of the members of the church. The balloting is to last over two Sundays, including next Sunday.

The eyes and noses will be taken on the question. Small members of other churches be allowed to join the Christian church without further immersion?

The decision to take the vote was arrived at in a meeting of the church board. The stand taken by Rev. Loken was both warmly assailed and warmly defended by deacons and deaconesses of the church in attendance. Rev. Loken defended his position, declaring in a broader conception of the truth of immersion than had heretofore been practiced by the church. D. B. Lacy and J. W. Brown, members of the board, declared that such a practice would be striking at the foundation of the church. It was finally decided to leave the question to the members of the church. A vote is to be taken on the matter.

Regarding the difficulties in the church, D. B. Lacy, who is president of the board, said:

"The whole board of officers has been filled in during the last year, with the Rev. Loken's friends. The board has been increased from six to nine members. The board of deacons has been largely increased. The new members have been added in a hasty manner, and the majority now on the official board which voted to turn down the elders and support the trustees."

LETTER READ

"Perhaps the most interesting incident of the meeting was the reading of a letter from the Rev. A. C. Smith, who was for 21 years pastor of the First Christian church in San Francisco, and was now managing editor of the Christian Evangelist, the leading religious journal of the Christian Board of Publication of St. Louis, Mo."

The Rev. Mr. Smith was on this coast some three weeks ago and had an interview with the Rev. Loken and the Rev. Loken, who is now in San Francisco with the Rev. Loken. The Sunday following, Loken interviewed him in his sermon that Smith agreed with him on this question, namely, but was not ready to do so publicly as yet.

"I at once wrote to Smith asking him in regard to the facts and received the letter which I read to the board on Monday night. It would take our breathing not only of Berkeley and vicinity, but of the entire state, to know what Smith says, and hence I brought it to the board for publication."

The Rev. Mr. Smith is not the only person that Loken has made this promise to that he would "confess error" and "agitation for the admission of unimproved persons into the church. He so pointed himself, Elder J. C. Gentry, Mrs. H. H. Hartman and others. He could not intimate that many of our preaching brethren are with him, but are afraid to say so in public. I know of none other except the Rev. Mr. Parkins of Alameda, who has successfully resisted that congregation assailed by the advocacy of what we consider a "dark horse."

FAVORS CHANGE

"The sermon which Loken preached two weeks ago last Sunday was deliberately in favor of his proposed change from baptism to end. He said that he preached this sermon by request. In fact, Loken can hardly preach a sermon without referring to the matter, either directly or indirectly."

Loken has been preaching it off and on for six months, and almost incessantly for three months. His adherents on the official board decline to allow elders to select some minister of our brotherhood to present the negative side from our pulpit. So, by precipitately calling this election they hope that he has increased a considerable number of the younger members to carry the opposition by a bare majority, though admitting that it would be impossible to get a two-thirds vote, which is required by the laws of the State of California to change a by-law of a corporation, such as our church is.

Loken's whole attitude during this discussion has resembled that of a paid attorney in a bad case. The elders have faithfully and conscientiously advised to reach an amicable settlement, but he seems determined to be satisfied with nothing short of disrupting the congregation, while claiming all the time to be saying and doing nothing in regard to the matter whatever.

It pains me to have to say this, but I will be the witness of the state to know the exact facts."

ALAMEDA, March 14.—Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Taylor have been giving a series of dinners, entertaining in a most delightful way many interesting people of the literary world, as well as of the social world. Tomorrow evening they will entertain a group of guests. The dinner will be uniform in decorative effects suggestive of St. Patrick's day, and will be given at their apartments at the "Lafayette."

Among those to enjoy Mr. and Mrs. Taylor's hospitality will be Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schmitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whittemore, Miss Charlotte Schmitt, C. E. Rogers, Miss Elsie Schmitt, George Owen, Miss Ann Kar, and Miss Mabel Schmitt.

At the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor last Friday evening the guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Phelps, Miss Virginia Lord, Miss Ethel McKean, Dr. and Mrs. John Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chipman and Charles Kaste.

FOUR YEARS FOR THEFT. SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—For the theft of a horse and buggy on March 18, John J. Miller was sentenced by Judge Lawlor today to serve four years in San Quentin.

ALAMEDA, March 14.—Penniless, partially blind, and weighed down with the burden of her eight-year-old son and heart made heavy by trouble and much suffering, Mrs. Lorraine D. Heath is being cared for temporarily at the home of Mrs. H. J. Flatts while Mrs. Flatts and others are endeavoring to raise financial aid which will secure a comfortable home for the aged woman during the brief balance of her life.

Mrs. Heath is the grandmother of Mrs. Devine, the Berkeley woman who recently confessed to forging the will she filed at that of the late Mrs. Mary Lloyd Swain of Berkeley.

Mrs. Heath's daughter, Mrs. Devine's mother, is in an Ohio hospital. It was paying for treatment at private institutions for this daughter which consumed Mrs. Heath's money, and she has thrown her on the world penniless in the final years of her life. To avoid sending the woman to the county infirmary Mrs. Flatts and others will try to raise funds to secure her a comfortable home.

ALAMEDANS ARE HOSTS AT SERIES OF SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Communicants at Berkeley Church to Ballot on the Disputed Points.

ALAMEDA, March 14.—In order to win a dollar box of chocolates which she has been given to understand is a fattening ration, Miss Florence Wiegand of 1735 Buena Vista avenue, slender, pretty and a bookkeeper for a Bank street firm, of butchers has inserted a lost advertisement in an Alameda paper advertising for two pounds of lost weight. She offers a reward for the return of the missing weight to her home on Buena Vista avenue. Answers are already pouring in. Two pound scale weights, dressed down to a two pound size and wrapped in gilt foil, two pounds of beefsteak, a mixed package of frankfurters and sausages, with a combined weight of two pounds, are among the answers the young woman has received.

Miss Wiegand is neither thin nor petite. She is willowy and slender. "Just right," many concerned judges would say. But she weighed recently and found that she had lost two pounds of flesh. She wants it back. Looking around for ways and means to secure the return of the missing avoirdupois, Miss Wiegand was advised by a friend to advertise for it. From this suggestion she has not wavered. She would not dare advertise, the chocolate being the stake.

Miss Wiegand learned that sugar was fattening and chocolate full of nutriment. Chocolate and sugar with a little water added make chocolate cream, so she sold on her books orders for chocolate cream which would restore that lost two pounds. She has won her bet and is now daintily nibbling her chocolates as she enters on her books orders for chocolate cream which would restore that lost two pounds. She has won her bet and is now daintily nibbling her chocolates as she enters on her books orders for chocolate cream which would restore that lost two pounds.

The ad reads:

LOST—Two pounds in weight. Return to F. J. Wiegand, 1735 Buena Vista avenue. Reward.

ONE-ROUND HOGAN IS DISQUALIFIED FOR FOUL BOXING

Pugilist Shows Yellow Streak in Bout With Cross and Violates the Rules.

NEW YORK, March 14. — "One Round" Hogan of California was disqualified in the first round of his fight with Leach Cross, the local lightweight, at the Madison Athletic Club here last night by referee George White for hitting in the breakaway. Hogan was disqualified after two minutes of fighting. Cross punished Hogan viciously, swinging him with a vicious right swing and causing him to hold with a series of smashes to the body.

Cross was the first to offend by hitting in the breakaway and referee White cautioned him. Immediately afterward Hogan hit Cross over the referee's shoulder and was in turn cautioned. Then Hogan hit Cross five times in the breakaway and the referee disqualified the westerner.

The house was in an uproar. Cries of "fight" were heard from every part of the house, immediately upon disqualification Hogan leaped from the ring. Referee White climbed back into the ring to restrain him.

"Under the Flaxley law any person taking part in boxing bouts in the State must be a resident of the State," said the referee. "Hogan is a foreigner and I disqualify him."

The spectators became quiet and left the house in an orderly manner.

Johnny Frazer took to the road in the morning yesterday and in the afternoon boarded the train for New York. He first set toward conditioning himself for the bout with Frankie Burns on March 29 over the bay. Frankie Burns will leave Sunday morning for Billy Shannon's, over in San Rafael.

Frankie Burns and Jack Dillon are at the grand stand at the club at White's and the latter at Miller's, for their bout on the 23d at City for Jimmy Coffey.

Then if Ray Temple can get over the Tom Dillon hurdle at Dreamland Rink tomorrow he will get a chance to box Jack Britton, the champion of the world, at the 20th, at Piedmont Pavilion, over the ten-round route, and there you have the pugilistic situation for the rest of the month around the bay. The pugilistic situation at the Ormonde Club has plenty of plenty of pugilist men should the best of action.

FRAYNE BOUL THE BEST.

Of all the bouts scheduled to take place at the Ormonde Club, the one between Frayne and Burns is the one that has the most fans with lots to talk about. These two boys, as the fans all know, recently fought a ten-round bout at the Ormonde Club and it was a hummer of a match. Opinions are still divided as to whether one had the advantage of the other and the coming bout will be a real test to settle the question for once and for all. It isn't to be a championship affair, but this much can be said, that the boy that comes out of it the winner will be in a position to meet any of the light-heavyweights in the world.

Ad Wolgast, the champion of the world, the little fellow himself, it all goes well.

KLAVIS VS. DILLON NEXT.

As to the Dillon-Klavis bout, it is being heralded as the middleweight championship of the world. It should be a fairly good scrap but not a crack at the world's champion. Klavis has performed hereabout in a fairly good manner and might have done a whole lot better but for a badly injured hand. Klavis is now in good shape and should be well and sound when he meets with Dillon on the 23d, as the fans can look for Frank to do better than he did against the sailor, Ed Petrovsky.

Dillon came here to Oakland heralded as the champion of the world. He is a scrap against Walter Coffey didn't earn him any more plaudits than did the bouts that "Lemon" Brown put up hereabout. Maybe he was not acclimated and used to things in the West. If it was the case, then we must expect a better performance from him. Coffey, and hope that he is all that has been said about him for if he isn't. From shows hereabout Klavis will "tear his head off in a fight."

As for the Britton-Temple bout, this time they met over in San Francisco it was a blowout. Temple was a real amateur. The score stands 10-0 in favor of Temple. The final bout will be played tomorrow night.

BANKER HORGAN NOW WALKING AWAY FROM CARNEY

DENVER, March 14. — "Banker" Horgan of St. Louis last night maintained his lead over Champion Joe Carney of Denver in the second fifty-point bout. The score stands 10-0 in favor of Horgan. The final bout will be played tomorrow night.

KNOCKOUT BROWN IS STILL PICKING UP EASY ONES

PHILADELPHIA, March 14. — In a six-round bout last night, Knockout Brown of New York had a slight advantage over Young Brown of this city. After the first round, Brown forced the fight and while Young Brown landed a blow as did the New Yorker, the latter had some steam in his punches.

Weather Is Blustery and Oakland Hopes Drill in the Gym; Joy Comes When Rohrer Is Reported Out of Danger

OAKS' TRAINING CAMP, Livermore, March 14.—Oakland's hopes had a chance to drill a bit yesterday even if it was a little blustery and there were occasional dashes of rain. It was a strenuous outdoor drill at that, for the preserves on the outskirts of the town were in no condition for field work. This caused the boss to take the ball players up to Sweeney's Opera House, sometimes called the gym, where a good indoor workout was held.

There was nothing exciting about the day, so little can one say about the hopes. Yet there was a whole lot of cheerful news from the ballfield of Catcher Rohrer, for Taylor gave out the word that the little hunk was running as much as right and that the threatened attack of pneumonia had been staved off.

There was nothing exciting about the day, so little can one say about the hopes. Yet there was a whole lot of cheerful news from the ballfield of Catcher Rohrer, for Taylor gave out the word that the little hunk was running as much as right and that the threatened attack of pneumonia had been staved off.

LOYAL OAKLANDERS TO PAY HOMAGE TO BALL TEAM

The good weather is giving Manager "Bud" Sharpe and his men a chance to work out again on the Livermore diamond, and they promise the fans who make the trip on Sunday's excursion that they will put up a lively game of ball. Manager Sharpe will be able by that time to pick out his probable lineup, provisionally at least, so that the excursionists will be able to get some line on the make-up of the Oaks as they will appear when the bell rings starting the 1912 pennant race.

The pitchers on the Oaks' staff are now beginning to loosen up in earnest and they will be able to show something new to the fans on Sunday. They as well as the rest of the Oaks are determined to average themselves upon the Livermore team for that the score of last Sunday, and a battle of the Oaks as they will appear when the bell rings starting the 1912 pennant race.

TEMPLE VS. DILLON IS TOPLINER AT DREAMLAND

Matchmaker Duffy Selects a List of Clever Mitt Men for Benefit of Fans.

A tour of all the training camps around the bay would show the fans at Dreamland Athletic Club at Dreamland pavilion in great shape and ready for the sound of the gong. He was particularly elated over the splendid form shown by Tommy Dillon, the Indianapolis bruiser, who meets Ray Temple of Milwaukee in the main event. The Easterner had shown himself a nifty pugilist, one who knows his way around a ring. Dillon has never taken the count, although he has engaged in close on 50 battles to the East. He holds a draw decision over Jack Britton, the Chicago lightweight.

Duffy also stated this morning that several new faces would greet the fans at Dreamland Friday night. This is very welcome, as the followers of the game have begun to tire of seeing the same old faces in action every Friday night. Among the newcomers and old-timers who have not been seen in action for some time are: "Doc" Cohen, a St. Louis "Kid" McCallahan of Sacramento, George Temple of Milwaukee, Tommy Ryan of Sacramento, Norman Cantor of Oakland and Nate Forbes of Indianapolis.

Mark Wells, lightweight champion of England, is on his way to this country.

Butting Nelson pulled down $2500 from his recent bout with Coco Fox Smith, Arizona. Pretty good bundle of coin for a has-been.

Johnny Kilbane, the great featherweight champion, is in the city. He is expected to box with White on Chicago at 23.

FAST COLLEGE TEAMS TO LINE UP ON BALL FIELD

Santa Clara and St. Mary's Patch Up Difficulties; Annual Game Planned.

All is harmonious between Santa Clara and St. Mary's baseball teams and the rival institutions will clash in the first game of their series for the college championship at San Jose on Sunday afternoon. According to the agreement reached, the following lineups will take the field in the first game of the series:

Santa Clara: Catchers, Hatch and Davis; pitchers, Barry, Fainsting and Sullivan; first base, Rimmage; second base, Zarich; third base, Gorman; shortstop, Trammello; outfielders, Jacoba, Best, Fitzpatrick and Canapa.

St. Mary's: Catchers, Simpson and Viugt; pitchers, Carr and Glavien; first base, Leggett; shortstop, Fitzsimmons; third base, Burns; second base, Guiguit; outfielders, Leonard, Tongi and Roth.

It was decided that the series shall be umpired by Hildebrand, the Coast League umpire.

Bleachers to seat 4000 additional fans are under construction at Santa Clara College and will be completed within two days. That will give the campus accommodations for 7000 spectators, and it is expected that, weather conditions being good, there will be that many present, if not more. The work is being rushed in spite of the rain.

A picture of a cabbage is the official title of the emblem adopted by David Greenblatt, independent candidate for leadership in a downtown election district. A duly certified representation of the emblem has been filed with the board of election and approval. Greenblatt says the cabbage was selected as an emblem for him by one of his Irish constituents.

LOUISE DRESSER TO END HER STAY
AT THE ORPHEUM

MISS NINA PAYNE

Louise Dresser, the statuette beauty whose character songs are one of the delightful features of the program at the Oakland Orpheum this week, will end her engagement next Saturday night.

Every act on the program, except the Five Parrell Sisters, will conclude its season on Saturday. The Orpheum "regulars" have not failed to note that there are seven absolutely new acts at the theater each week, and that but one feature is held over each week. The wise people of course, now come every week as not to miss any of the vaudeville novelties.

"La Sonnambule," the big French pantomime spectacular, has a delightful blend of music, dancing and pictorial effects. It will be seen here for the last time Saturday, with Miss Nina Payne in the stellar role.

Harry Beresford and his company of players in their delightful comedy, "In Old New York," will leave on Saturday, at 11:00 a.m. with the story teller, Carson Brothers, the Swedish athletes, Clemons and Dean, dancing songsters, and the Bernville Brothers, Italian serenaders.

Miss Valerie Berger will begin her season of one week at the Oakland Orpheum next Sunday in the intense playlet, "Judgment," written by the late Victor Small.

There will be seven absolutely new acts on the program next Sunday, according to the Orpheum's usual custom.

THREE DIE WHEN TRAINS COLLIDE

Work Outfit Demolished by a Freight During Blinding Snowstorm.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 14.—Three are dead, five missing and a score more injured as a result of a rear-end collision late yesterday between a west-bound extra freight and a work train on the Santa Fe coast line at McCarty's, N. M., sixty miles west of here. The dead are section foreman and his wife and assistant. Five laborers are missing and their bodies are believed to be buried in the wreckage.

The wreck occurred on a sharp curve a mile west of McCarty's in a blinding snow storm which obscured the view of the engineer and extra freight train. The work train was standing on the main line, and because of the storm, all the laborers were aboard at the time of the accident. Those killed were eating dinner in the rear car of the work train.

Though Section Foreman Ward, his wife and the assistant foreman were killed outright, the five children of the Ward, in the same car, were tossed 100 feet into a field near by, all being injured seriously.

A score of Mexican laborers in the bunk cars were buried in the wreckage. A special train brought the dead and injured, numbering twenty, to this city.

GOLCONDA LAND
CASE IS SETTLED

Cattle Company Agrees to Pay $100 Yearly for 25 Years.

CARSON, Nev., March 14.—The suit brought by the government against the Golconda Cattle Company, in which Congressman Kent was one of the defendants, alleging the enclosing of government land at Little Rock Creek, Nev., for the purpose of raising cattle, was settled yesterday by the payment of $100 a year for the last twenty-five years of the period during which the land was alleged to have been illegally enclosed.

Attorneys Denman and Lewers made the following statement in regard to the compromise:

"The negotiations for the compromise of the suit against the Golconda Cattle Co. for the alleged enclosure of government land at Little Rock creek have been carried on during the recesses of the trial of the suit over the alleged enclosure of 27,000 acres at Squaw Valley.

"The latter suit has been bitterly contested by the company. The fences there have been constructed within the last three years and used during all the time the case was pending. The fences at Little Rock creek were erected over twenty-five years ago and were on the land when the company bought it.

"The government contended that a natural barrier at Little Rock creek had been built by the company and made an enclosure. The company denied this and contended that the fences were simply drift fences to send the cattle into the hills and did not constitute an enclosure, but were within the customs of grazing and complied with the grazing law.

"The government asked for $7000. We offered $1400. The government admitted the fences were erected over the last three years. The case was finally compromised for the sum of $100 per year for twenty-five years. It clearly appeared that in no event was there an improper intent on the company's part, and the government agreed to dismiss the indictment of the company brought years ago in September in the midst of Congressman Kent's campaign.

"This settlement has nothing to do with the Squaw Valley enclosure case. The settlement was made on the basis of the fact that the case had been tried during the last two weeks and an argument will be concluded tomorrow.

NEW STEAMER IS LOST ON COAST

The Isleworth Breaks Propeller Blades and Goes Ashore.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 14.—The new steamer Isleworth, under charter to the Dominion Coal Company, broke three of her propeller blades last Sunday on a trip from Boston to Louisville, and in consequence is now stranded today off Chubucto Head, at the entrance to this harbor, and will be a total loss. The Isleworth had a crew of forty men, all of whom got to land with difficulty.

With the star propeller blade left the steamer had slowly made her way since Sunday and when she struck she was trying to enter this harbor for repairs. The fog was thick, a high sea was running and Captain Reddick, out of reckoning, found himself on the rocks. He determined to abandon the steamer and a boat was sent ashore with a line. This was used in succeeding trips to get all the crew ashore. Five trips were made, the boat being pulled and towed by the line, each passage becoming increasingly perilous in a rising sea.

AEROPLANES COLLIDE;
PASSENGER INJURED

BERLIN, March 14.—A collision occurred yesterday between two aeroplanes flying around the airport at Johannisthal, a machine driven by Schade, who was carrying a passenger named Bajowski, striking violently another aeroplane driven by Riettinger. Both aeroplanes were demolished and fell, the passenger being injured, while the two airmen escaped unhurt.

CHARGES AGAINST
FISK ARE PROBED

Quiet Investigation Made Under Supervision of Post-office Department.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—An official examination of the charges filed against Postmaster Arthur G. Fisk by Miss Mary Joesten and Miss Mattie Fitzgerald, discharged employees of the postoffice, is now being made under the supervision of the postoffice department.

It has been carried on secretly by three special agents, who were sent to San Francisco from Washington to gather evidence for the postoffice committee of the Senate, in whose hands the case of Fisk now lies.

Their reports will be presented to the committee together with the documentary evidence which Fisk himself is forwarding to the national capital.

Fisk, who has been postmaster for nine years, was reappointed and his name sent by President Taft to the Senate in January for confirmation. Then the charges of the young women reached Washington and on request of Senators Bourne of Oregon and Works of California, his reappointment was held up and the case sent to the Senate committee.

Miss Joesten and Miss Fitzgerald declare that Fisk dismissed them because he had made advances to Miss Joesten and had been snubbed.

They have sent to Washington affidavits in support of their accusations. A large part of Fisk's defense and his straight-out denial of the charges are signed with the committee. All that is now awaited is the report of the three special agents.

WORK IS QUIET

No announcement of the special investigators' arrival from Washington was made even to the San Francisco postoffice authorities. Their work has been done quietly. Employees have been summoned to a room in the postoffice, where the investigation is under way. Even the names of the investigators is kept a secret.

"We cannot give out any information at this time," Harry Hall, postoffice inspector, said.

"Whether an investigation is or is not being conducted is a matter I cannot discuss."

In the defense Fisk has submitted his own statement on the point that the ridiculousness of the charges is apparent from the fact that he would have had to corrupt the entire department of postoffice inspection to gain the dismissal of the young woman for her own personal revenge.

The dismissals were ordered from Washington after a long investigation had been made by the postoffice inspectors, of which Fisk knew little, he says.

He did not even know, he has said, that the young women were to be discharged until he received the formal order which he carried out as postmaster.

It is argued by Fisk's defenders that three other young women were discharged at the same time and five reduced in pay, but they accepted their discharge without protest of unfairness.

BOURNE STARTS REFORM
FUND IN THE NORTH

OREGON CITY, March 14.—For the purpose of insuring enactment of the corrupt practices act in Oregon in the present campaign, Senator Jonathan Bourne has subscribed $500 to a fund to defray expenses. The money is to be placed in the hands of W. S. Uren of Oregon City, with the expectation that he will undertake the work of employing detectives, make investigations and conduct prosecutions when violations of the law is established.

LAZY LIVER, BILIOUSNESS, HEADACHE
COATED TONGUE OR A BAD STOMACH

You men and women who somehow can't get feeling right—who have an almost daily headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—merely forcing a passage-way every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is impossible. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.
